

The Easy English Book of Quotations

Compiled by Dave McKay Smashwords Edition
copyright 2014

ISBN 9781311574671

Contents

1. Quotes About Quotes
2. Some of the Best
3. Care for the Earth
4. Truth
5. Sincerity
6. Integrity
7. Good vs Evil
8. Fear
9. Courage
10. Don't Give Up!
11. Helping Others
12. Kindness
13. Love
14. To Make You Laugh
15. Bad Habits
16. Actions
17. Hard Work
18. Business
19. Money
20. Jesus Christ
21. Nature and God
22. Religion
23. Dreams and Hopes
24. How to be Successful
25. Planning Ahead
26. Time
27. The Young and the Old
28. Family Life
29. Friends
30. Working Together
31. Politics
32. War and Peace
33. Happiness
34. Being Bitter or Forgiving?
35. Arguments
36. Patience
37. Teaching and Learning
38. Reading and Writing

39. Talking
 40. Who to Believe
 41. Confidence
 42. Positive Thinking
 43. A Reason to Live
 44. Life and Death
 45. Health
 46. Discipline
 47. Worry
 48. Leaders and Followers
 49. Wise Choices
 50. Little Things
 51. Being Different
 52. Beauty
 53. Entertainment and Sports
 54. The Law and Lawyers
 55. Freedom
 56. Animals
 57. Music and Art
 58. Travel
 59. Change
 60. Computers and Other Inventions
 61. Humility
 62. Leftovers
- Dictionary

1. Quotes About Quotes

It is a good thing for an uneducated man to read books of quotes.

Winston Churchill (1874-1965), former British Prime Minister

Now and then I come across a saying which has meaning for me, and it becomes a part of me.

W. Somerset Maugham (1874-1965), English playwright and novelist,
Of Human Bondage, 1915

A good saying answers where the sermon fails, just as a small hand gun will kill more than a whole barrel of gunpowder exploded in the air.

William Gilmore Simms (1806-1870), American writer and historian

Quotes with a point are a blessing to people who have become shallow.

Louise Guiney (1861-1920), American poet and essayist

The surest way to make a monkey of a man is to quote him.

Robert Benchley (1889-1945), American humourist and columnist

2. Some of the Best

A trip of a thousand miles must begin with a single step.

Lao Tzu, founder of Taoism (about 500 BC)

One rule sums up all the others, and that rule is to love...
first, love God, and then, love others.

Jesus, Matthew 22:37-40

Work like you don't need the money.
Love like you've never been hurt.
Dance like nobody's watching.

Satchel Paige (1906-1982), African-American baseball player

If you would not be forgotten as soon as you are dead and rotten, either write something worth reading or do things worth the writing.

Benjamin Franklin (1705-1790), American inventor and statesman

Truth will not break like a bubble, at a touch;
no, you may kick it about all day like a football,
and it will be round and full at evening.

Oliver Wendell Holmes (1809-1894), American doctor and writer

Whoever talks to you about others will talk to others about you.

Spanish Proverb

Do to others
what you would want them to do to you.

Jesus, Matthew 7:12

You have to kiss a lot of frogs to find your prince.

Author unknown

Anyone who does anything important is surely going to be hated, and misunderstood.
Every great man understands it;
and understands, too,
that being hated is no proof of being great.
The last proof of being great lies in being able to take the hate without becoming bitter.

Elbert Hubbard (1856 - 1915), American writer, artist, philosopher

If your enemy is hungry feed him;
if he thirst, give him drink: for in so doing you shall pile coals of fire on his head.

The Bible, Romans 12:20.

Think how hard it is to change yourself and you'll understand what little chance you have of changing others.

Jacob M. Braude, author of Braude's Treasure of Wit and Humour

Are you bored with life? Then throw yourself into some work you believe in with all your heart.
Live for it, die for it, and you will find happiness that you had thought could never be yours.

Dale Carnegie (1888-1955), American self-improvement lecturer and author of How to Win Friends and Influence People

The time will never be 'just right'.
Start where you stand,
and work with whatever tools you have.
Better tools will be found as you go along.

Napoleon Hill (1883-1970), American author

If you don't like something, change it.
If you can't change it, change your attitude.

Maya Angelou (1923-), American author and poet

A bank manager is a person who lends you his umbrella when the weather is clear, but wants it back the minute it begins to rain.

Mark Twain (1835-1910), American author and humourist

A great weight was lifted from my shoulders
the day I learned that no one owes me anything.

Harry Browne (1933-2006), writer, politician and market analyst

Don't cripple your children by making their lives easy.

Robert A. Heinlein (1907-1988), science fiction writer

I've had a lot of worries in my life, most of which never happened.

Mark Twain (1835-1910), American author and humourist

Making the simple hard to understand happens all the time;
making the hard to understand simple,
very simple,
that's the mark of a truly wise person.

Charles Mingus (1922-1979), jazz musician

The way to have friends is to be one.

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882), poet, lecturer, and essayist

Forced to choose between turning against my country or turning against my friend, I pray that I would have the strength to turn against my country.

E. M. Forster (1879-1970), Two Cheers for Democracy (1951)

When I work fourteen hours a day, seven days a week, I get lucky.

Armand Hammer (1898 - 1990), business tycoon

Nothing is especially hard if you break it down into small jobs.

Henry Ford (1863-1947), American industrialist and founder of the Ford Motor Company, who pioneered assembly lines

Only one life. It will soon be past.
Only what's done for love will last.

Charles T. Studd (1860-1931), missionary to China, India, and Africa

A man may fall many times but he won't be without hope until he says someone pushed him.

Elmer G. Leterman (1897-1982), author and insurance broker

Don't spend your time asking
'Why isn't the world a better place?'
It will be time wasted.
The question to ask is 'How can I make it better?'
To that there is an answer.

Leo F. Buscaglia (1924-1998), author and motivational speaker

There is so much good in the worst of us,
And so much bad in the best of us,
That it does not become any of us
To talk about the rest of us.

Edward Wallis Hoch (1849-1925), lecturer and ex-governor of Kansas

You can no more win a war than you can win an earthquake.

Jeannette Rankin (1880-1973), first American Congresswoman

They laugh at you, then they fight you, and then you win.

Mohandas Gandhi (1869-1948), pacifist & ideological leader of India

Let someone else blow your horn, and the sound will travel twice as far.

Mark Twain (1835-1910), American author and humourist

You will find as you look back on your life that the times when you have truly lived are the times when you have done things in the spirit of love.

Henry Drummond (1851-1897), scientist and author

A lie gets halfway around the world before the truth has a chance to get its pants on.

Winston Churchill (1874-1965), former British Prime Minister

Find a job you like and you add five days to every week.

Jackson Brown, Jr, American inspirational author

I never did a day's work in my life.
It was all fun.

Thomas Edison (1847-1931), inventor and scientist

God does not expect us to be perfect, but he does expect us to try to be perfect.

Anonymous

My country is the earth, and my religion is to do good.

Thomas Paine (1737-1809), author, inventor, revolutionary, intellectual
The Rights of Man part 2 (1792), page 414

We were made to help each other.
If you have something to teach us, do it.
If not, listen to what we are teaching.

Aristotle (384-322 B.C), philosopher, teacher of Alexander the Great Auctoritates Aristotelis, (ed. J. Hamesse, 1974), Success seems to be mostly a matter of hanging on after others have let go.

William Feather (1889-1981), author and publisher

Words once spoken can never be brought back.

Wentworth Dillon (1630-1685), poet, fourth Earl of Roscommon

Talk between two people becomes an argument when one or the other stops listening.

Anonymous

Good fences make good neighbours.

mid-17th Century proverb

Better a fence at the top of the cliff than a hospital at the bottom.

Frederick Truby King (1858-1938), New Zealand health reformer

He who asks a question is a fool for five minutes;
he who does not ask stays a fool forever.

Chinese Proverb

If you do not have something worth dying for, you do not have anything worth living for.

Martin Luther King (1929-1968), civil rights activist, Baptist minister

People should read what they want to read.
What they are forced to read will do them little good.

Samuel Johnson (1709-1784), English writer and lexicographer
Boswell Life volume 1, page 428 (14 July, 1763),

Not my will, but yours, be done.

Jesus, praying before he died, in Luke 22:42

A sincere person is one who wants to know the truth so much that they are willing to change their actions if the truth shows that they are wrong.

Anonymous

The truth that makes people free is, for the most part,
the truth that they choose not to hear.

Herbert Agar (1897-1980), A Time for Greatness (1942), chapter 7

Do not believe all that you hear, and do not say all that you believe.

Author unknown

Being an adult means being able to say
'I'm sorry you feel like that,'
and then walk away. That's hard.

Lois McMaster Bujold (1949-), in A Civil Campaign, 1999

When good people do nothing,
it is all that evil people need to win.

Edmund Burke (1729-1797), Irish statesman and philosopher

When planning for a year, plant corn.
When planning for ten years,
plant trees.
When planning for life, teach children.

Kwan-Tsu (740-645 BC)

What kind of place would this world be,
if everybody in it was just like me?

Author unknown

Not many sounds in life are more interesting than a knock at the door.

Charles Lamb (1775-1834), Essays of Elia (1823), 'Valentine's Day'

The more arguments you win, the less friends you have.

American proverb

"My thoughts are not your thoughts, and your ways are not my ways," says God.

The Bible, Isaiah 55:8

We are guilty of all the good that we did not do.

Voltaire (1694-1778), French writer, historian, philosopher

Dying does not take a smart person by surprise.

Jean de La Fontaine (1621-1695), poet and fable-teller

Change yourself and you change the world.

Anonymous

Why do you call me Lord,
if you will not do what I say?

Jesus, Luke 6:46

It is not that Christianity has been tried and did not work.
It is that people could see that it was difficult, and because of this, they have never tried it.

G. K. Chesterton (1874-1936), English writer and Christian apologist
What's Wrong with the World (1910), part 1

The fear of God is the beginning of wisdom.

The Bible, Psalm 111:10

If you want to be rich,
you must learn to buy less.

Samuel Johnson (1709-1784), English writer and lexicographer
Life volume 4, page 157 (letter, 7 December, 1782),

A little more.

John D. Rockefeller (1839-1937), oil magnate and philanthropist when asked how much money a person needs to be happy

Think about the flowers in the field, how they grow.
They do not work and they do not make cloth.
But I say that Solomon with all his wealth, was not dressed as well as one of them.

Jesus, Matthew 6:28

We have nothing to fear but fear itself.

Franklin D. Roosevelt (1882-1945), 32nd American president
4 March, 1933, in Public Papers (1938), volume 1

The pen is stronger than the sword.

Edwin Bulwer-Lytton (1803-1873), writer and politician

3. Care for the Earth

It takes two things to make a country rich:
water and peace.

African proverb

Do not spit in the well.
You may be thirsty by and by.

Russian proverb

Thank God men cannot as yet fly and lay waste the sky as well as the earth!

Henry David Thoreau (1817-1862), author, poet and philosopher

Don't blow it. Good planets are hard to find.

Time magazine

God will destroy those who destroy the earth.

The Bible, Revelation 11:18

They kill good trees to put out bad newspapers.

James G. Watt, Newsweek (8 March, 1982)

The sun, the moon, and the stars would have been destroyed long ago, had they happened to be in the reach of human hands.

Havelock Ellis (1859-1939), The Dance of Life (1923)

4. Truth

God made Truth with many doors to welcome every believer who knocks on them.

Kahlil Gibran (1883-1931), Lebanese-American author

Truth is like the sun. You can shut it out for a time, but it's not going to go away.

Elvis Presley (1935-1977), American singer

Truth can receive all lights.

3rd Earl of Shaftesbury (1671-1713), Sensus Communis (1709),

Long is the way, and hard,
that leads out of the dark and up to the light.

John Milton (1608-1674), English poet, Paradise Lost (1667), book 2

Give light, and the darkness will go away of itself.

Desiderius Erasmus (1466-1536), Dutch humanist and priest

Adults can learn from very little children.
The Great Spirit may show to them many things which older people miss.

Black Elk (1863-1950), Sioux holy man

Truth is a land without roads.
You do not go there by following a religion.

J. Krishnamurti (1895-1986), speech in Holland, 3 August, 1929

One truth must be on another truth:
truth on truth, line on line, here a little and there a little.

The Bible, Isaiah 28:10

All truths are half truths.

It is thinking that they are whole truths that makes devils of us.

Alfred North Whitehead (1861-1947), Dialogues (1954), prologue

It is one thing to show a person that he is wrong, but it is a very different thing to give that person the truth.

John Locke (1632-1704), Essay concerning Human Understanding

Truth sits on the lips of dying men.

Matthew Arnold (1822-1888), Sohrab and Rostum

If you stay in my teachings, you will know the truth,
and the truth will make you free.

Jesus, John 8:31-32

I love Plato, but I love truth more.

Aristophanes (c.450-c.385), Greek comedic playwright

It is truth that you cannot win against.
You can very easily win against me.

Socrates (469-399 BC), Plato Symposium 201d

The old always fights against the new.

Author unknown

All colours will agree in the dark.

Francis Bacon (1561-1626), English scientist, lawyer, and statesman

But it does move.

Galileo Galilei (1564-1642), after giving in to church leaders, in 1632, who said it was wrong to say that the earth moves around the sun.

To wear the coat of Galileo
it is not enough that people are against you.
You must also be right.

Robert Park (1864-1944), American sociologist

It is dangerous to be right when the government is wrong.

Voltaire (1694-1778), French writer, historian, and philosopher

Every man has a right to say what he thinks is true, and every other man has a right to knock him down for it.
Dying as a martyr is the test.

Samuel Johnson (1709-1784), English writer and lexicographer

True, it is the salt of the earth;
but no one wants salt rubbed into their sores.

Rebecca West (1892-1983), The Salt of the Earth (1935), chapter 2

There is one thing stronger than all the armies in the world, and that is an idea whose time has come.

Victor Hugo (1802-1885), French writer and statesman

Don't worry about people robbing an idea.
If it's your own and it's new,
you will have to force it down their throats.

Howard Aiken (1900-1973), computer inventor

We are prisoners of ideas.

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882), American writer and lecturer

I had rather do and not promise than promise and not do.

Arthur Warwick (1603-1633), English essayist

It is easier to believe a lie that one has heard a thousand times than to believe a truth that one has never heard before.

Robert S. Lynd (1892-1970), American sociologist

Newspaper writers say a thing that they know isn't true, in the hope that if they keep on saying it long enough, it will be true.

Arnold Bennett (1867-1931), English novelist, essayist and playwright

He who is not very strong in remembering should not play with lying.

Michel de Montaigne (1533-1592), French writer

Be sure your sin will find you out.

The Bible, Numbers 32:23

When you do not know what to say, tell the truth.

Mark Twain (1835-1910), Pudd'nhead Wilson's New Calendar

It is a good thing to tell the truth, but it is important, too, to be right.

Winston Churchill (1874-1965), former British Prime Minister

Some, when talking, would rather that others see they are able to hold all arguments, than that they know how to judge what is true and what is not.

Francis Bacon (1561-1626), English scientist & lawyer, Of Discourse

Great is Truth, and stronger than anything.

The Bible, I Esdras 4:41

Truth can never be told as to be understood, and not be believed.

William Blake (1757-1827), English poet and artist

Truth will always stand up against a lie, as oil does above water.

Miguel de Cervantes (1547-1616), Spanish novelist and playwright

5. Sincerity

The first good quality of all really great men is that they are sincere.
They drive out hypocrisy from their hearts.

Anatole France (1844-1924), poet, journalist, and novelist

Hateful to me as the gates of hell is that man who hides one thing in his heart and speaks another.

Homer (c. 800 BC-700 BC), Greek epic poet, The Iliad

No one can wear a mask for very long.

Seneca (5 BC-65 AD), Roman philosopher, statesman, and dramatist

Honesty is the first chapter in the book of wisdom.

Thomas Jefferson (1743-1826), third U.S. president

Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for what is right, because they will be filled.

Jesus, Matthew 5:6

Happy are the people with clean hearts, for they will see God.

Jesus, Matthew 5:8

To the clean all things are clean.

The Bible, Titus 1:15

Confession is good for the soul.

Scottish proverb

I sat at a table where there were rich food and wine and many nice words, but sincerity and truth were not; and I went away hungry.

Henry David Thoreau (1817-1862), Walden

The last sin is the greatest treason:
to do the right thing for the wrong reason.

T.S. Eliot (1888-1965), British playwright and literary critic

Like an ability or a muscle, hearing your inner wisdom is made stronger by doing it.

Robbie Gass (1948-), leadership coach and musician

When there is no enemy inside, the enemies outside cannot hurt you.

African proverb

6. Integrity

This, above all else: Be true to yourself.
It must follow, as night follows day, that after doing this,
you cannot be false to anyone.

William Shakespeare (1564-1616), Hamlet act 1, scene 3

Know yourself.

Plato (429-347 BC), Greek mathematician and philosopher

To be nobody but yourself in a world which is doing its best, night and day, to make you someone else means to fight the hardest battle which any human being can fight;
and never stop fighting.

E. E. Cummings (1894-1962), American poet, painter, and author

All goes well as long as you run with those who are like you. But you, who are honest men in other ways, know that there is alive somewhere a man whose honesty shall not bend his knee to false gods, and, on the day when you meet him, you sink into the world of counterfeits.

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882), American writer and lecturer

The best parts of a good person's life are the little secret acts of love that no one remembers.

William Wordsworth (1770-1850),
'Composed a few miles above Tintern Abbey' (1798).

The best feeling I know is to do a good act secretly, and to have a person find it by accident.

Charles Lamb (1775-1834), The Athenaeum, 4 January, 1834

I was brought up to believe how I saw myself was more important than how others saw me.

Anwar el-Sadat (1918-1981), former Egyptian president

Our greatest battles are those with our own minds.

Jameson Frank

Better keep yourself clean and bright;
you are the window through which you must see the world.

George Bernard Shaw (1856-1950), Irish playwright

In the long run, we shape our lives, and we shape ourselves. It never ends until we die.

Eleanor Roosevelt (1884-1962), American author, speaker, politician

Being born in a duck yard does not matter, if you are born from a swan's egg.

Hans Christian Andersen (1805-1875), Danish fairy tale author

Never follow the crowd.

Bernard Baruch (1870-1965), American financier & political consultant

A few honest men are better than numbers.

Oliver Cromwell (1599-1658), leader who overthrew the British monarchy

To be an adult is to be alone.

Jean Rostand (1894-1977), Thoughts of a Biologist (1939)

We live, as we dream - alone.

Joseph Conrad (1857-1924), Polish-born English novelist

They travel fastest who travel alone.

Rudyard Kipling (1865-1936), The Story of the Gadsbys (1890),

Wide is the door and wide is the way that leads to hell; and many go through it.
But narrow is the door and narrow is the way that leads to life; and very few find it.

The Bible, Matthew 7:13-14

The pot should not call the kettle black.

William Penn (1644-1718), Some Fruits of Solitude, 1693

People who live in glass houses should not throw stones.

Geoffery Chaucer (1343-1400), Toilus and Criseyde

You have brains in your head.
You have feet in your shoes.
You can steer yourself any direction you choose.

Dr. Seuss (1904-1991), Oh! The Places You'll Go!

Conscience is what makes a boy tell his mother before his sister does.

Evan Esar (1899-1995), American humourist

Do what you should,
and leave the end of it to the gods.

Pierre Corneille (1606-1684), Horace (1640), act 2, scene 8

Here I stand. I can do no other.
God help me.

Martin Luther (1483-1546), at the Diet of Worms, 18 April 1521

Get up, stand up! Stand up for the right.
Get up, stand up! Do not give up the fight.

Bob Marley (1945-1981), Get Up, Stand Up (1973 song).

7. Good vs Evil

Some opposition is a great help to a man.
Kites rise against, not with, the wind.

John Neal (1893-1976), American author, lawyer, boxer, architect

You cannot run away from a weakness;
you must sometime fight it out or perish.
If that is so, why not now, and where you stand?

Robert Louis Stevenson (1850-1894), Scottish novelist and writer

You can chain me, you can torture me, you can even destroy this body,
but you will never control my mind.

Mohandas Gandhi (1869-1948), leader of Indian independence

Oh wise man, wash your hands of that friend who is friends with your enemies.

Saadi (1184-1291), Persian poet

Better fifty enemies outside the house than one inside.

Irish proverb

If you are near the enemy, make him believe you are far from him.
If you are far from the enemy,

make him believe you are near.

Sun Tzu (about 400 BC), The Art of War

You can't blame the innocent.
All you can do is control them or destroy them.

Graham Green (1904-1991), The Quiet American

He seems to be right on top of things and very alert.
We've always had trouble with him.

Rick Comley (1947-), collegiate ice hockey coach

The cruelest lies are often told by saying nothing.

Robert Louis Stevenson (1850-1894), Scottish novelist and writer

8. Fear

No spirit robs the brain of its ability to act and think clearly, as does fear.

Edmund Burke (1729-1797), Irish statesman and philosopher,
On the Sublime and Beautiful (1757).

There is no fear in love,
for perfect love forces out all fear.

The Bible, I John 4:18

And perfect fear forces out all love.

Cyril Connolly (1903-1974), English intellectual, literary critic, writer

Present dangers are less than future fears.

William Shakespeare (1564-1616), Macbeth act 1, scene 3

If you want to overcome fear, don't sit at home and think about it. Go out and get busy.

Dale Carnegie (1888-1955), American self-improvement lecturer

Understand fear; watch it, learn about it, come into close touch with it instead of running away from it.

J. Krishnamurti (1895-1986), writer and speaker on spiritual issues

Feel the fear and do it anyway.

Susan Jeffers (circa 1940-), author of several self-help books

We must travel in the direction of our fear.

John Berryman (1914-1972), American poet and scholar

He has no hope that never had a fear.

William Cowper (1731-1800), English poet and hymn-writer

It's only those who do nothing who make no mistakes.

Joseph Conrad (1857-1924), Polish-born English novelist

Cry no more, sad fountains;
Why do you run so fast?

Sixteenth-Century proverb

Dream the impossible dream.

Joe Darion (1917-2001), American musical theatre lyricist and author

9. Courage

The big thing to be learned in life is never be scared of anyone or anything.
Fear is the enemy of clear thinking.

Frank Sinatra (1915-1998), American singer and actor

Either you choose to stay in the shallow end of the pool or you go out in the ocean.

Christopher Reeve (1952-2004), American actor, film producer, director, and author, who became a quadriplegic in 1995.

A small rock holds back a great wave.

Homer (c. 800 BC-700 BC), Greek epic poet, The Odyssey

When a dog runs at you, whistle for him.

Henry David Thoreau (1817-1862), author, poet and philosopher

Whoever rescues even one life has as much worth as though he had rescued the whole world.

The Talmud, Mishna. Sanhedrin

Where there is life, there is danger.

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882), Society and Solitude

If you're never scared or embarrassed or hurt, it means you never take any chances.

Julia Sorel, american author who co-wrote Rocky with Sylvester Stallone

People who have been hurt are dangerous.
They know they can survive.

Josephine Hart

Twenty years from now you will be more upset about the things you didn't do than by the ones you did do.

Mark Twain (1835-1910), American author and humourist

When there is no danger in the fight, there is no happiness in the winning.

Pierre Corneille (1606-1684), Le Cid (1637), act 2, scene 2

Don't be afraid of the space between your dreams and the real world.
If you can dream it, you can make it so.

Belva Davis (1932-), Arican-American journalist and author

10. Don't Give Up!

Winners never quit and quitters never win.

Vince Lombardi (1913-1970), American football coach

When you get to the end of your rope, tie a knot and hang on.

Franklin D. Roosevelt (1882-1945), Kansas City Star, June 5, 1977

If you only knock long enough and loud enough at the gate, you are sure to wake up someone.

Henry W. Longfellow (1807-1882), American poet and educator

Most of the important things in the world have been done by people who have kept on trying when there seemed to be no hope at all.

Dale Carnegie (1888-1955), American self-improvement lecturer

No matter how long the night, the morning will come.

African proverb

Come what will, time and the hour run through the roughest day.

William Shakespeare (1564-1616), Macbeth act 1, scene 3

If you're going through hell, keep going.

Winston Churchill (1874-1965), former British Prime Minister

If you pump long enough, hard enough and enthusiastically enough, sooner or later it will bring the reward.

Zig Ziglar (1926-), American salesman and motivational speaker

This one step, choosing a target and sticking to it, changes everything.

Scott Reed (1938-), African-American author

One of the best experiences we can ever have is to wake up feeling healthy after we have been sick.

Harold Kushner (1935-), American Rabbi and author

The wisest person is not the one who fails the least, but the one who turns those failings to best account.

Richard R. Grant

Look at the turtle. He makes progress only when he sticks his neck out.

James Bryant Conant (1893-1978), American educator and chemist

11. Helping Others

There are two ways of showing one's strength:
one is pushing down, the other is pulling up.

Booker T. Washington (1856-1915)
African American educator, author, speaker, and political leader

It is always easier to tear down than it is to build up.

Author unknown

Each person has a place to fill in the world, and is important in some way, whether he chooses to be so or not.

Nathaniel Hawthorne (1804-1864),
American novelist and short story writer

If you're afraid to let someone else see your weakness, take heart: Nobody's perfect.
Besides, trying to hide your weaknesses does not work as well as you think it does.

Julie Morgenstern, O Magazine, April 2004

If we had no winter, spring would not be so good:
if we did not sometimes taste of troubles, success would not be so welcome.

Anne Bradstreet (1612-1672), Meditations Divine and Moral, 1655

Don't let the bastards get you down.

British Army Intelligence saying during World War II

Sadness is for one night, but happiness comes in the morning.

The Bible, Psalm 30:4

After all, tomorrow is another day.

Margaret Mitchell (1900-1949), Gone With The Wind

Faith is the bird that feels the light and sings while the morning is still dark.

Rabindranath Tagore (1861-1941), Bengali poet, artist, and musician

There is good in seeing good in others.

William Congreve (1670-1729), to Sir Godfrey Kneller

Those who are lifting the world up higher and on farther are those who encourage more than criticise.

Elizabeth Harrison (1849-1927), American educator

I've tried not to laugh at the actions of people, not to cry over them, not to hate them, but to understand them.

Baruch Spinoza (1632-1677), Tractatus Politicus (1677), chapter 1, section 4

12. Kindness

Speaking with kindness builds confidence, thinking with kindness builds wisdom, giving with kindness builds love.

Lao Tzu, founder of Taoism (about 500 BC)

Kindness is the language which the deaf can hear and the blind can see.

Mark Twain (1835-1910), American author and humourist

You have two hands.
One for helping yourself,
the other for helping others.

Audrey Hepburn (1929-1993), American actress and humanitarian

Those who bring sunlight to the lives of others cannot keep it from themselves.

James M. Barrie (1860-1937), Scottish author and dramatist

Love and kindness always make a difference.
They bless the one who receives them,
and they bless you, the giver.

Barbara De Angelis (1951-), author and lecturer on relationships

Do good and care not to whom.

Italian Proverb

Instead of trying to be right, why don't we try being kind?

Wayne Dyer (1940-), American self-help author and lecturer

Trust men and they will be true to you; act toward them as if they are great and they will show themselves great.

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882), American writer and lecturer

Simple kindness to yourself and all that lives is the most powerful changing force of all.

David R. Hawkins (1927-), American psychiatrist, author and lecturer

A kind word is never thrown away.

Arthur Helps (1813-1875), English writer and dean of the Privy Council

All you need is love.
But a little chocolate now and then doesn't hurt.

Charles M. Schulz (1922-2000), American cartoonist

If you know what hurts yourself, you know what hurts others.

Author unknown

No act of kindness is ever wasted.

Aesop (c. 620-564 BC), Greek fable teller

Before you judge me, walk a mile in my shoes.

Author unknown

The art of being kind is all that this sad world needs.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox (1855-1919), The World's Need

No man can sincerely try to help another without helping himself.

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882), American writer and lecturer

You will get more bees with honey than with vinegar.

Author unknown

Be good to people on the way up, because you will meet them on the way down.

Wilson Mizner (1876-1933), in A. Johnston's The Legendary Mizners (1953), chapter 4

I and the people know what all school children learn:
If you are cruel to another,
they will be cruel in return.

W. H. Auden (1907-1973), 'September 1, 1939' (1940)

A soft answer turns away anger.

The Bible, Proverbs 15:1

Smile. It is the key that fits the lock of everybody's heart.

Anthony J. D'Angelo. American self-help author

I have witnessed the hardest of hearts become soft by a simple smile.

Goldie Hawn (1945-), American actor, film director and producer

What the sun is to flowers, smiles are to people.

Author unknown

13. Love

Love is, above all other things, the giving of yourself.

Jean Anouilh (1910-1987), Ardèle (1949), page 79

We may give without loving,
but we cannot love without giving.

Bernard Meltzer (1916-1998), Harvard graduate and radio show host

A person who does not love does not know God;
for God is love.

The Bible, I John 4:8

Hell, madam, is to love no more.

Georgs Bernanos (1888-1948), French author and WWI soldier

Let those love now, who never loved before.
Let those who always loved, now love the more.

Pervigilium Veneris (translated by Thomas Parnell, 1722)

It is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all.

Samuel Butler (1835-1902), English author

Love is being able and willing to let those that you care for be what they choose for themselves without telling them that they must do what you choose.

Wayne Dyer (1940-), American self-help author and lecturer

Knowledge makes you feel important, but love helps you to make others feel important.

The Bible, I Corinthians 8:1

Love... and after that, do what you want.

St Augustine of Hippo (354-430), philosopher and theologian, Epistolam Joannis ad Parthos (AD 413)

One who has not loved has not lived.

John Gay (1685-1732), The Captives (1724), act 2, scene 2

No one is born hating another person because of the colour of his skin, or his way of life, or his religion.
People must learn to hate,
and if they can learn to hate,
they can be taught to love,
for love comes more naturally to the human heart than its opposite.

Nelson Mandela (1918- 2013), former President of South Africa

We are not held back by love we didn't receive in the past, but by love we're not giving out in the present.

Marianne Williamson (1952-), author, lecturer and spiritual activist

They pray well who love well.

Samuel Taylor Coleridge (1772-1834),
The Rime of the Ancient Mariner (1798), part 7

Where there is great love
there are always miracles.

Willa Cather (1843-1947), American novelist who wrote of frontier life

I did the worst to him I loved the most.

Laxdaela Saga (c. 12 century); the words of Gudrun

Those have most power to hurt us that we love.

Francis Beaumont (1584-1616). and John Fletcher (1579-1625),
The Maid's Tragedy (written 1610-1611), act 5

A bell's not a bell until you ring it.
A song's not a song until you sing it.
Love wasn't put in your heart to stay.
Love isn't love until you give it away!

Oscar Hammerstein II (1895-1960), American theatrical producer

Lord, make me an instrument of your peace.
Where there is hate, let me plant love.

St. Francis of Assisi (1181-1226), "Prayer of St. Francis"

The greatest love is to give your life for a friend.

Jesus Christ, John 15:13

The only good life is the one that is lived for others.

Albert Einstein (1879-1955), German physicist, Defining Success

To keep the body, mind, and heart in parallel strength one must exercise, study, and love.

Karl von Bonstetten (1745-1832), Swiss writer

Anything will give up its secrets
if you love it enough.
When I talk to the little peanut,
it gives up its secrets.
and when I quietly talk with people they give up their secrets also -- if you love them enough.

George Washington Carver (1864-1943)
American scientist, inventor, and educator

Love all, trust a few. Do wrong to none.

William Shakespeare (1564-1616), English playwright

The weather and love are the two things about which one can never be sure.

Alice Hoffman (1952-), Here on Earth

It is easier to know man in general than to know one man as a person.

Francois, Duc de la Rochefoucauld (1613-1680), French author

It is a far far better thing I do than ever I have done.
It is a far far better rest that I go to than I have ever known before.

Charles Dickens (1812-1870), A Tale of Two Cities (1859), book 3, chapter 15 (by a man who was going to die for another man)

We must love one another, or die!

W. H. Auden (1907-1973), September 1, 1939 (1940)

Hear the other side.

St Augustine of Hippo (354-430), philosopher and theologian

Love is like a virus.
It can happen to anyone at any time.

Maya Angelou (1923-), American author and poet

Nice guys finish last.

Leo Durocher (1905-1991), American baseball manager

Nice guys finish last, but we get to sleep in.

Evan Davis (1962-), British TV presenter and economist

It's not true that nice guys finish last. Nice guys are winners before the game even starts.

Addison "Mort" Walker (1923-), comic illustrator

14. To Make You Laugh

Laughing is the best medicine.

Author unknown

A joke's a very serious thing.

Charles Churchill (1732-1764), English poet and satirist

Looking at life through the wrong end of a telescope is what I do.
And that helps me to laugh at life's problems.

Dr. Seuss (1904-1991). American writer, poet, and cartoonist

Laugh until it helps!

Laugh Club motto

Never be afraid to laugh at yourself.
After all, you could be missing out on the joke of the century.

Dame Edna Everage (Barry Humphries), (1934-), Australian artist, comedian, author, film producer, and character actor.

People are different from all other animals because we can laugh.

Joseph Addison (1672-1719), English writer and politician,
The Spectator No. 494 (26 September 1712)

The most wasted day of all is that in which we have not laughed.

Sebastian R. N. Chamfort (1741-1794), French writer

Mix a little foolishness with your wisdom.
It's good to be foolish at the right time.

Horace (65 BC - 8 BC), Roman lyric poet

Jokes can be rubber swords. They let you make a point without drawing blood.

Mary Hirsch, teacher of humorous writing

There is a foolish corner in the brain of the wisest man.

Aristotle (384-322 BC), Greek philosopher, student of Plato

An onion can make people cry, but there has never been a vegetable invented to make them laugh.

Will Rogers (1879-1935), American cowboy and comedian

Laughing is the sun that drives winter from the human face.

Victor Hugo (1802-1885), French writer and statesman

I've known what it is to be hungry, but I always went straight to a restaurant.

Ring Lardner (1885-1933), American author and humourist

If I called the wrong number,
why did you answer the phone?

James Thurber (1894-1961), New Yorker, June 5, 1937

I hope that when I die, people say about me,
'That guy sure owed me a lot of money.'

Jack Handey (1949-), Deep Thoughts

If I were two-faced, would I be wearing this one?

Abraham Lincoln (1809-1865), former U.S. President

God gives men a brain and a penis, but only enough blood to run one at a time.

Robin Williams (1951- 2014), American actor and comedian

This is the sixth book I've written, which isn't bad for a guy who's only read two.

George Burns (1896-1996), American actor, comedian, and writer

Opera is when a guy gets stabbed and, instead of bleeding, he sings.

Ed Gardner (1901-1963), American comic actor, writer, and director

I do not mind what language they sing an opera in,
so long as it is a language I don't understand

Edward Appleton, Observer 28 August 1955

I know that God won't give me more trouble than I can handle ... but sometimes I wish he wouldn't trust me so much.

Sister Teresa (1910-1997), Albanian missionary to India

Been there, done that, got the T-shirt.

Author unknown

When Solomon said
there was a time and place for everything he had not yet faced the problem of parking a car.

Bob Edwards (1947-), American radio broadcaster

Some scientists say that the future will be just like the past, only far more expensive.

John Sladek (1937-2000), American science fiction writer

Not Hercules could have knocked out his brains, for he had none.

William Shakespeare (1564-1616), English playwright

The reason lightning doesn't hit twice in the same place is that the same place isn't there the second time.

Willie Tyler (1940), American ventriloquist, comedian and actor

If wisdom were on sale in the open market, the stupid would not even ask the price.

Author unknown

The weather: Everyone talks about it, but no one does anything about it.

Mark Twain (1835-1910), American author and humourist

Money is the opposite of the weather.
Nobody talks about it,
but everybody does something about it.

Rebecca Johnson, author of And Sometimes Why, in 'Vogue'

I told the doctor I broke my leg in two places.
He told me to quit going to those places.

Henny Youngman (1906-1998), American comedian and violinist

There is no human problem which could not be fixed if people would simply do as I say.

Gore Vidal (1925-)

I don't want to belong to any club that would have me as a member.

Groucho Marx (1890-1977), American comedian and film star

First the doctor told me the good news: I was going to have a sickness named after me.

Steve Martin

Never go to a doctor whose office plants have died.

Erma Bombeck

In Paris they simply looked at me when I spoke to them in French. I never was able to make those crazy people understand their language.

Mark Twain (1835-1910), American author and humourist

Good Americans, when they die, go to Paris.

Thomas Gold Appleton (1812-1884), American writer and artist

Speak in French when you can't think of the English for a thing.

Lewis Carroll (1832-1898), English author, mathematician, and photographer, most remembered for writing Alice in Wonderland

You know you're getting old when you bend to tie your shoestrings and ask yourself what else you can do while you're down there.

George Burns (1896-1996), American actor, comedian, and writer

If cars had followed the computer's pattern, they would today cost one hundred dollars, get a million miles to the gallon,
and explode once a year, killing everyone inside.

Robert X. Cringely (Mark Stephens, 1953-), InfoWorld magazine

I cannot say that I do not disagree with you.

Groucho Marx (1890-1977), American comedian and film star

How young can you be and still die of old age?

Steven Wright (1955-), American comedian, actor, and writer

No one goes there these days.
It's too crowded.

Yogi Berra (1925-), American baseball player and manager

A girl with a brain should do more with it than think.

Anita Loos (1893-1981), Gentlemen Prefer Blondes (1925)

Death is nature's way of telling you to slow down.

American life insurance proverb, Newsweek, 25 April, 1960

If God had wanted us to fly, he would have given us tickets.

Mel Brooks (1926-), American comedian, actor, film producer and director, screenwriter, and composer

Whoever called it necking is a poor judge of the human body.

Groucho Marx (1890-1977), American comedian and film star

The one who laughs last laughs best.

John Vanbrugh (1664-1726), English architect and dramatist

15. Bad Habits

I'm not so think as you drunk I am.

J.C. Squire

You're not drunk
if you can lie on the floor without holding on.

Dean Martin

When angry, count to four;
when very angry, swear.

Mark Twain (1835-1910), American author and humourist

I kissed my first girl and smoked my first cigarette on the same day.
I haven't had time for tobacco since.

Arturo Toscanini

Chains of habit are too light to be felt until they are too heavy to be broken.

Warren Buffett (1930-), one of the wealthiest people in the world

A human being has a natural desire to have more of a good thing than he needs.

Mark Twain (1835-1910), Following the Equator

Wine laughs at you, and strong drink shouts at you in anger.

The Bible, Proverbs 20:1

At the first cup, you drink wine.
At the second cup, wine drinks wine.
After that, wine drinks you.

Author unknown

Free yourselves from the slavery of tea and coffee and other kettle waste.

William Cobbett

That's all that drugs and alcohol do.
They cut off your emotions in the end.

Ringo Star (1940-)

It is best to hide that we are stupid, but it is hard to do this when we relax over wine.

Heraclitus (540-480 BC), On the Universe

Smoking is ugly to the eye, bad to the nose,
and dangerous to the brain and lungs.

James I (James VI of Scotland), (1566-1625),
A Counterblast to Tobacco (1604),

16. Actions

What you've done becomes the judge of what you're going to do – especially in other people's minds.

William Least Heat Moon (1939-), American travel writer
of part Osage Nation origin

A tree is known by its fruit.

Jesus, Matthew 12:33

Think before you act;
but think after you act too.

Vinobha Bhave (1895-1982), Indian advocate of nonviolence, and successor to Gandhi

Thinking well is good;
planning well is better;
doing well is best.

Persian proverb

Being smart is understanding quickly; but ability is acting well on the thing after you understand it.

Alfred North Whitehead (1861-1947), English mathematician,
Dialogues (1954), 15 December, 1939

There is much that one can do who does both act and know.

Andrew Marvell (1621-1678), English poet and parliamentarian,
An Horatian Ode upon Cromwell's Return from Ireland (1650), Let him that would move the world,

first move himself.

Socrates (469-399 BC), Greek philosopher

Starting is half the job.

Horace (65-8 BC), Roman poet, Epistles book no. 2, line 1

It is better to wear out than to rust out.

Richard Cumberland (1631-1718), English philosopher and bishop

Good is best when you do it quickly.
Waiting to do it will come to nothing.

Robert Southwell (c. 1561-1595), Loss in Delays (1595)

Think globally; act locally.

Patrick Geddes (1854-1932), Scottish biologist and town planner

Faith without works is dead.

The Bible, James 2:20

History is philosophy in action.

Dionysius of Halicarnassus (60-7 BC), Greek historian and teacher

Never confuse movement with action.

Ernest Hemingway (1899-1961), American author and journalist

I will travel through this life but one time.
Any good thing that I can do or any kind act that I can show to any other person, I must do now.
I must not put it off, or choose not to do it,
for I will not come this way again.

Stephen Grellet (1773-1855), Quaker missionary

The world is divided into people who do things and people who get the credit.
Try, if you can, to belong to the first group.
There's far less competition.

Dwight Morrow (1873-1931), American politician and businessman

Our bodies are our gardens.
Our wills are gardeners.

William Shakespeare (1564-1616), English playwright

Where there's a will there's a way.

Mid seventeenth century proverb

17. Hard Work

Man is made great or small by his own will.

J.C.F. von Schiller (1759-1805), German historian, poet, playwright

Moving mountains starts with a good shovel.

Anonymous

Work is life and good work is good life.

J. W. Elliot (1833-1915), English composer

Far and away the best that life can give is the chance to work hard at work worth doing.

Theodore Roosevelt (1858-1919), 26th President of the U.S.

If you have much ability,
work will make it better.
If you have little ability, work will make up the difference.

Joshua Reynolds (1723-1792), Discourses on Art (1769)

Give your heart to God, and your hand to work.

Swami Omkar (1895-1982), Indian holy man

Work is love that we can see.

Kahlil Gibran (1883-1931), The Prophet (1923), 'On Work'

A smart person who will not work is like a cloud without rain.

Author unknown

The only place where success comes before work is in the dictionary.

Donald Kendall (1921-), former CEO of Pepsi Cola

It is good for a man that he carry the yoke when he is young.

The Bible, Lamentations 3:27

Change yourself, and your work will seem different.

Norman Vincent Peale (1898-1993), American minister and author

Put your shoulder to the wheel.

Aesop (620 BC - 560 BC), Hercules and the Wagoner

The more we do,
the more we can do.

William Hazlitt (1778-1830), English essayist and literary critic

There is no such thing as a free lunch.

Milton Friedman (1912-2006), American economist and author

If you ever need a helping hand, you'll find one at the end of your arm.

Sam Levenson (1911-1980), American humourist, writer, and TV host

Some people work hard... at finding ways to get others to do the work.

Anonymous

God gives every bird his worm;
but he does not throw it into the nest.

Swedish Proverb

I have nothing left to give but blood, labour, tears and sweat.

Winston Churchill (1874-1965), former British Prime Minister

Shallow men believe in luck.
Strong men believe in cause and effect.

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882), American writer and lecturer

I'm a great believer in luck, and I find the harder I work the more I have of it.

Thomas Jefferson (1743-1826), third U.S. President

Luck sometimes visits a fool, but it never sits down with him.

German Proverb

If I find ten thousand ways that something won't work,
I haven't failed. I am not discouraged, because everything I try that is wrong is another step forward.

Thomas Edison (1847-1931), inventor and scientist

If people only knew how hard I have worked to get this ability,
it would not seem so wonderful at all.

Michelangelo (1475-1564), Italian painter, engineer, poet, architect

A problem is your chance to do your best.

Duke Ellington (1899-1974), American composer and pianist

Start by doing what is needed;
then do what is possible;
and soon you will be doing the impossible.

Francis of Assisi (1181-1226), Italian Catholic preacher

The spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak.

Jesus, Matthew 26:41

The rest of a labouring man is sweet.

The Bible, Ecclesiastes 5:12

All work and no play makes Jack a boring boy and Jill a rich widow.

Evan Esar (1899-1995), American humourist

Work liberates.

words on the gates of Dachau concentration camp, 1933, and later on those of Auschwitz

Early to rise and early to bed makes a male healthy, wealthy and dead.

James Thurber (1894-1961), American author and cartoonist

It's true hard work never killed anyone;
but I say why take the chance?

Ronald Reagan (1911-2004), actor and 40th U.S. President

By working faithfully eight hours a day you may one day get to be boss and work twelve hours a day.

Robert Frost (1874-1963), American poet

No man would choose to work on a ship if he was smart enough to get himself put into a prison; for being in a ship is like being in a prison with the added chance of drowning.

Samuel Johnson (1709-1784), Boswell's Life of Johnson

A man is not lazy just because he is thinking.
There is work that can be seen and there is invisible work.

Victor Hugo (1802-1885), French writer and statesman

Come to me, all you who labour and are tired;
and I will give you rest.

Jesus, Matthew 11:28

My yoke is easy and what I ask you to carry is light.

Jesus, Matthew 11:30

I'm lazy. But it's the lazy people who invented the wheel and the bicycle because they didn't like walking or carrying things.

Lech Walesa (1943-), Polish human rights activist

We will go early to a job that we love, and we will go happily.

William Shakespeare (1564-1616), Antony and Cleopatra act 4

There's no need to do house work at all.
After the first four years,
the dirt does not become any worse.

Quentin Crisp (1908-), The Naked Civil Servant (1968), chapter 15

The fastest way to do many things is to do them one at a time.

Samuel Smiles (1812-1904), Self-Help (1859), chapter 9

Easy come, easy go.

title of a 1967 musical starring Elvis Presley

18. Business

Don't open a shop unless you like to smile.

Chinese proverb

If your business keeps you so busy that you have no time for anything else, there must be something wrong, either with you or with your business.

William J. H. Boetcker (1873-1962), Presbyterian minister

To really serve you must add something which one cannot buy or measure with money, and that is sincerity and integrity.

Donald A. Adams, 15th President of Rotary International

Whoever does not love his work cannot hope that it will please others.

Author unknown

The first rule in business is not to get caught.

Anonymous

Eat and drink with relatives;
but only do business with strangers.

Greek proverb

If your desk isn't messy, you probably aren't doing your job.

Harold Geneen (1910-1997), American businessman

The most successful businessman is the one who holds onto the old just as long as it is good, and takes the new just as soon as it is better.

Lee Iacocca (1924-), American businessman

No people can become rich until they learn that there is as much worth in ploughing a field as in writing a rhyme.

Booker T. Washington (1856-1915), educator, author, and speaker

No one has ever had an idea in a dress suit.

Frederick G. Banting (1891-1941), Canadian doctor and Nobel laureate

Ideas are like rabbits.
You get a couple and learn how to handle them,
and soon you have a lot of them.

John Steinbeck (1902-1968), American author and Nobel laureate

The more you look for security, the less of it you have.
But the more you look for a way to grow, the more likely it is that you will get the security that you desire.

Brian Tracy (1944-), Canadian self-help author

Nothing is against the law
if a hundred businessmen choose to do it.

Andrew Young (1932-), American politician, activist, and pastor

If you are in a job you hate, face the truth squarely and get out.

Michael Korda (1933-), author and novelist

A good newspaper is a country talking to itself.

Arthur Miller (1915-2005), American writer, Observer, 26 Nov., 1961

Do not kill the goose that lays the gold egg.

Author unknown (reference to one of Aesop's fables)

Don't put all your eggs in one basket.

H.M. Markowitz (1927-), American economist and Nobel laureate

Price is what you pay. Worth is what you get.

Warren Buffett (1930-), one of the wealthiest people in the world

19. Money

A rich man is nothing but a poor man with money.

W.C. Fields (1880-1946), comedian, juggler, actor, writer

Like dogs running in a wheel, greedy men still climb and climb, but never reach the top.

Robert Burton (1577-1640), English scholar at Oxford University

The trouble with the rat race is that even if you win, you're still a rat.

Lily Tomlin (1939-), actress, comedienne, writer

Do not be fooled into believing that because a man is rich he is smart.
There is enough proof to show the opposite.

Julius Rosenwald (1862-1932), U.S. businessman and philanthropist

The person who dies rich dies a loser.

Andrew Carnegie (1835-1919),
North American Review June, 1889 'Wealth'

People who work sitting down get paid more than people who work standing up.

Ogden Nash (1902-1971), American poet

Let them eat cake.

Marie Antoinette, when she learned that the peasants had no bread

A man without money need no more fear a crowd of lawyers than a crowd of pickpockets.

William Wycherley (c. 1640-1715), English dramatist

Without a rich heart, wealth is an ugly beggar.

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882), American writer and lecturer

There is no real use for wealth, but to give it to others.

Francis Bacon (1561-1626), English scientist, lawyer, and statesman,
Of Riches

A bank is a place that will lend you money
if you can prove that you don't need it.

Bob Hope (1903-2003), American comedian and actor

There is some magic in wealth, that a fool who is rich should be given more honour by the world than a good man or a wise man who is poor!

Ann Radcliffe (1764-1823), The Mysteries of Edolpho

The love of money is the root of all evil.

The Bible, I Timothy 6:10

All animals are equal, but some animals are more equal than others.

George Orwell (1903-1950), Animal Farm (1945), chapter 10

No one can serve two masters at the same time.
You cannot work for God and for money.

Jesus, Matthew 6:24

God's people work for love.
The devil's people work for money.

Anonymous

The rich think of money.
The poor think of God.

Author unknown

Too much has made me poor.

Ovid (43 BC-17 AD), Roman poet, Metamorphoses, book 2

To be smart enough to get all that money, one must be stupid enough to want it.

G. K. Chesterton (1874-1936), English writer and Christian apologist

It is harder for a rich man to go into the kingdom of heaven than it is for a camel to go through the eye of a needle.

Jesus, Matthew 19:24

Does not God choose the poor to be his people?
Do not the rich fight against the teachings of Jesus?

The Bible, James 2:5-7

I sit on a man's back, hurting him and forcing him to carry me, and I tell myself and others that I feel sad for him, and want to help him in any way that I can.
...in any way, that is, but to get off his back.

Leo Tolstoy (1828-1910), What Then Must We Do? (1886), chapter 16

He who is carried on another's back does not think about how far off the town is.

African proverb

You can hold money, but money should not hold you.

Author unknown

They have mouths but do not talk, eyes but cannot see,
ears but cannot hear,
noses but cannot smell, hands but cannot touch,
and feet but cannot walk.

The Bible, Psalm 115:5 (about idols)

Greed is the same as worshiping idols.

The Bible, Colossians 3:5

Men, to make a living, forget to live.

Margaret Fuller (1810-1850), American journalist and feminist

I will tell you about the very rich.
They are different from you and me.

F. Scott Fitzgerald (1896-1940), All the Sad Young Men (1926)

The rich and poor are two different countries, with no feeling for each other,
and no words between them.
They know as little about each other as they would know if they were living on different planets.

Benjamin Disraeli (1804-1881), Sybil (1845), book 2, chapter 5

Where your wealth is, there your heart will be too.

Jesus, Matthew 6:21

There is enough on earth for each man's need, but not enough for each man's greed.

Frank Buchman (1878-1961), Remaking the World (1947), page 56

Time is money.

Benjamin Franklin (1705-1790), inventor, statesman, philosopher,
Advice to a Young Tradesman (1748)

Time is not money.
Time is far more important than that; time is life.

Anonymous

Where greed ends, happiness begins.

Author unknown

Learn to give quickly, lose happily, and become rich without becoming greedy.

George Sand (1804-1876), female French novelist

To be upset over what you don't have is to waste what you do have.

Ken Keyes (1921-1995), American self-help author

Count what you have, not what you do not have.

Author unknown

Something is better than nothing.

Author unknown

When we cannot get what we love, we must learn to love what we get.

Roger de Rabutin (1618-1693), French memoirist

The earth is full of a number of things.
We all should be as happy as kings.

Robert Louis Stevenson (1850-1894), Scottish novelist and writer,
A Child's Garden of Verses (1885), 'Happy Thoughts'

The king is no more than a man... as I am.
The flower smells to him as it does to me.

William Shakespeare (1564-1616), Henry V act 4, scene 1

Because we do not have money, we have been forced to think.

Ernest Rutherford (1871-1937), British chemist and physicist.
The Bulletin of the Institute of Physics (1962), volume 13, page 102

They that die by famine die by inches.

Matthew Henry (1662-1714), English Bible commentator and minister

There is no wealth but life.

John Ruskin (1819-1900), Unto this Last (1862), essay 4, page 156

Have nothing in your house that you do not use, or that you do not believe to be beautiful.

William Morris (1834-1896), English artist, writer, and socialist, Hopes and Fears for Art (1882), 'Making the Best of It'

If you buy what you do not need, you will need what you cannot buy.

Author unknown

How many things I can do without!

Socrates (469-399 BC), on looking at all the things people were selling, in Diogenes Laertius' Lives of the Philosophers book 2

Travel light, and you can sing in the face of the robber.

Juvenal (55-127 AD), Roman poet and satirist, Satires number 10

The rich have servants, but no friends.
We have no servants, but we have friends.

Ezra Pound (1883-1972), American poet, The Garret

When you give to the poor, your left hand should not know what your right hand is doing.

Jesus, Matthew 6:3

Rough was their house and poor their food, for all their wealth was doing good.

Samuel Garth (1661-1719), Claremont (1715),

It is better to give than to receive.

The Bible, Acts 20:35

The act of giving is an act of receiving too.

Author unknown

You help the poor most when you help them quickly.

Publilius Syrus (1st Century BC), freed Syrian slave Sententiae number 274, in J. & A. Duff, Minor Latin Poets

Do it now.
It is not safe to leave a generous feeling for the cooling effect of the world.

Thomas Guthrie (1803-1873), Scottish preacher and philanthropist

God loves an enthusiastic giver.

The Bible, II Corinthians 9:7

The ones who are right before God will all live by faith.

The Bible, Romans 1:17

There is no better way that any group can use money than to put milk into babies.

Winston Churchill (1874-1965), former British Prime Minister, on radio, 21 March, 1943, in Complete Speeches (1974)

The rich are the scum of the earth in every country.

G. K. Chesterton (1874-1936), English writer and Christian apologist

The Lord is my Shepherd;
I shall not go without what I need.

The Bible, Psalm 23:1

Foxes have holes
and birds of the air have nests; but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head.

Jesus, Matthew 8:20

20. Jesus Christ

Look! The Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world!

Bible, John 1:29.

There is a green hill far away,
Without a city wall,
Where the good Lord was put to death,
Who died to save us all.

Cecil Frances Alexander (1818-1895), Irish poet and hymn writer

Take up your cross and follow me.

Jesus, Matthew 16:24

He who finds his life will lose it, but he who will lose his life for me will find it.

Jesus, Matthew 10:39

Anyone who does not forsake all that he owns cannot be my disciple.

Jesus, Luke 14:33

If you love me,
you will obey my teachings.

Jesus, John 14:15

Anyone who gathers not with me is against me.

Jesus, Matthew 12:30

If someone asks you for your coat, give them your shirt as well.

Jesus, Luke 6:29

The disciple is not greater than his master.
If they have called me a devil,
they will do the same to you.

Jesus, Matthew 10:24-25

Do not give your pearls to pigs.

Jesus, Matthew 7:6

Give to the king what is the king's, and give to God what is God's.

Jesus, Matthew 22:21

Many that are first will be last,
and the last will be first.

Jesus, Matthew 19:30

You can't have both:
the crown and the thirty pieces of silver.

Aneurin Bevan (1897-1960), British politician

21. Nature and God

If a person walks in the forest and listens carefully, he can learn more than what is in books,
for it speaks with the voice of God.

George Washington Carver (1864-1943), U.S. scientist and inventor

Everyone who wills can hear the inner voice.
It is inside everyone.

Mohandas Gandhi (1869-1948), pacifist & ideological leader of India

We spend most of our time in a kind of horizontal thinking. We move along the top of things; but there are times when we stop and lose ourselves in a pile of leaves. We listen and voices from a whole other world begin to whisper.

James Carroll (1943-), American novelist, historian, and journalist

God the first garden made, and the first city Cain.

Abraham Cowley (1618-1667), English poet

It is a good thing to be out on the hills alone.
A man cannot be cruel or a fool alone on a great mountain.

Francis Kilvert (1840-1879), from his diaries

You will find something more in a forest than in books.
Trees and stones will teach you that which you can never learn from masters.

Bernard of Clairvaux (1090-1153), French Abbott

Thanks to highways, it is now possible to travel from one side of the country to the other without seeing anything.

Charles Kuralt (1934-1997), American journalist

He that plants trees loves others besides himself.

English Proverb

A fool does not see the same tree that a wise man sees.

William Blake (1757-1827), The Marriage of Heaven and Hell

Don't go around saying the world owes you a living.
The world owes you nothing. It was here first.

Mark Twain (1835-1910), American author and humourist

I believe a leaf of grass is no less than a step in the work of the stars.

Walt Whitman (1819-1892), American poet, essayist and journalist

Where the telescope ends,
the microscope begins,
and who can say which has the wider vision?

Victor Hugo (1802-1885), Les Miserables

The earth is God's,
and all that is in it.

The Bible, Psalm 24:1

The leaves fall, the wind blows, and the farm slowly changes from summer cottons into its winter wools.

Henry Beston (1888-1968), Northern Farm

In the cold midwinter icy wind made moan,
Earth stood hard as iron, Water like a stone;
Snow was falling, snow on snow, Snow on snow, In the cold midwinter, Long ago.

Christina Rossetti (1830-1894), A Christmas Carol

We dig the ground and plant the good seed on the land, but food and water come from God's much stronger hand.

Jane Montgomery Campbell (1817-1878), 1861 hymn translated from the German of Matthias Claudius (1740-1815)

In God we live and move and have our being.

The Bible, Acts 17:28

Nature is but name for an effect, Whose cause is God.

William Cowper (1731-1800), English poet and hymn writer

God gave Noah the rainbow sign, no more water, the fire next time.

Home in that Rock (Negro Spiritual)

The wolf also shall live with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the young goat.

The Bible, Isaiah 11:6.

God made the country;
man made the town.

William Cowper (1731-1800), The Task (1785), book 1 'The Sofa'

Cain moved away from where God was,
and he made a city.

The Bible, Genesis 4:16-17

If being spiritual is being humble in the face of forces greater than you, and believing those forces
lean more toward being good than being bad, then I'm a spiritual person.

Michael J. Fox (1961-), Canadian actor, author, and producer, Good Housekeeping, June, 2011

Are people monkeys or angels?
I am on the side of the angels.

Benjamin Disraeli (1804-1881), former British Prime Minister, speech at Oxford, 25 November, 1874, The Times 26 November

Man is Nature's sole mistake!

Humphrey Gilbert (1539-1583), soldier, explorer and British MP

He made this world to be like the world above, and below, and all in one.

The Zohar (Kabbalah), Jewish mystical writings

God is a circle of which the centre is everywhere and the border is nowhere.

Empedocles (490-430 BC), Greek philosopher

Your body is the temple of God's Spirit.

The Bible, I Corinthians 6:19

All we know of what they do above, is that they are happy and that they love.

Edmund Waller (1606-1687), Upon the Death of My Lady Rich (1645)

Oh God, if there be a God, save my soul, if I have a soul.

prayer of a soldier before the battle of Blenheim, 1704

I said to the man standing at the door to the new year, "Give me a light to help me walk safely into the future." He answered, "Go into the darkness, and put your hand into the hand of God. That will be to you better than a light and safer than knowing the future."

Minnie Louise Haskins (1875-1957), Desert (1908), 'God Knows'

As I shouted, growing more angry and wild at each word,
I believed I could hear one saying, "Child."
And I answered, "My God!"

George Herbert (1593-1633), The Collar (1633)

Go to sleep in peace. God is awake.

Victor Hugo (1802-1885), French writer and statesman

His eye is on the sparrow, and I know he watches me.

Civilla D. Martin (1866-1948), Canadian-American hymn writer

Be strong, and be encouraged!
Do not be afraid; and do not be worried.
For God is with you wherever you go.

The Bible, Joshua 1:9

God hides himself from the mind of man,

but he shows himself to a man's heart.

African proverb

Can you by looking find out God?

The Bible, Job 11:7

No man has seen God at any time.

The Bible, John 1:18

God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.

The Bible, John 4:24

In His will is our peace.

Dante Alighieri (1265-1321), Italian writer and philosopher

Be quiet, and know that I am God.

The Bible, Psalm 46:10

God stops talking to people who do not want to hear.

Samuel Butler (1835-1902), author
Further Extracts from Notebooks (1934), page 279

Will the clay tell the potter what to make of it?

The Bible, Isaiah 29:16

If God be for us, who can be against us?

The Bible, Romans 8:31

Remember now your Maker, in the days when you are young.

The Bible, Ecclesiastes 12:1

When I was young I remembered God.
Now that I am old, he remembers me.

Robert Southey (1774-1843), The Old Man's Comforts (1799)

God be in my head and in my understanding.
God be in my eyes and in my looking.
God be in my mouth and in my talking.
God be in my heart and in my thinking.
God be in my end and in my leaving.

Sarum Missal 11th Century

In the measure that we give to God,
He will give to us.

Jesus, Luke 6:38

God does not see as people see.
People look on the outside, but God looks on the heart.

The Bible, I Samuel 16:17

My house shall be called a house of prayer for all people.

The Bible, Isaiah 56:7

People should always pray, and not give up.

Jesus, Luke 18:1

Your words are a light for my feet.

The Bible, Psalm 119:105

As for me and my house,
we will serve the Lord.

The Bible, Joshua 24:15

22. Religion

I do not fear Satan half so much as I fear those who fear him.

Teresa of Avila (1515-1582), Spanish mystic and Carmelite nun

Beliefs separate us.
Dreams and pain bring us together.

Eugene Ionesco (1909-1994), Romanian playwright

We have enough religion to make us hate, but not enough to make us love each other.

Jonathan Swift (1667-1745), Thoughts on Various Subjects (1711)

Wise people all have the same religion.
But because they are wise,
they will not tell you what religion it is.

1st Earl of Shaftesbury (1621-1683), Bishop Gilbert Burnet
History of My Own Time, volume 1 (1724), book 2, chapter 1

You cannot put God in a box.

Author unknown

Where Jesus builds his Church,
the devil builds in the same place his temple.

Richard Bancroft (1544-1610), sermon at Paul's Cross, 1588

A cult is a religion with no political power.

Tom Wolfe (1931-), American author and journalist

What's a cult? It just means not enough people to make a minority.

Robert Altman (1925-2006), American film director and screenwriter

The devil is most dangerous when people think well of him.

Elizabeth Barrett Browning (1806-1861), English poet, Aurora Leigh (1857), book 7

When religion was strong and science weak, men believed magic was medicine.
Now, when science is strong and religion weak, men believe medicine is magic.

Thomas Szasz (1920-), Hungarian psychiatrist and academic,
The Second Sin (1973)

The price of freedom of religion is that we must put up with a lot of rubbish.

Robert Jackson (1892-1954), former U.S. Attorney General

Whoever obeys the gods, to him they especially listen.

Homer (c. 800 BC-700 BC), Greek epic poet, The Iliad

Toward no crime have men shown themselves to be so cruel as in punishing differences of belief.

James Russell Lowell (1819-1891), American poet, critic, and diplomat

Religion is a candle inside a lantern with different colours.
Everyone looks through a different colour,
but the candle is always the same.

Mohammed Neguib (1901-1984), first president of Egypt

You can preach a better sermon with your life than with your lips.

Oliver Goldsmith (1730-1774), Irish writer and physician

It is no use walking anywhere to preach unless our walking is our preaching.

Francis of Assisi (1181-1226), Italian Catholic preacher

I will show you what I believe by what I do.

The Bible, James 2:18

If you pray, you will believe;
If you believe, you will love;
If you love, you will help.

Sister Teresa (1910-1997), Albanian Catholic nun

We need to put legs to our prayers.

Author unknown

This is my simple religion.
There is no need for temples;
no need for difficult philosophy.
Our own brain, our own heart is our temple;
the philosophy is kindness.

14th Dalai Lama (1935), Nobel laureate and spiritual leader of Tibet

Hate the sin, but love the sinner.

Mohandas Gandhi (1869-1948), pacifist & ideological leader of India

When the gods wish to punish us, they answer our prayers.

Oscar Wilde (1854-1900), Irish writer and poet,
An Ideal Husband, 1893

Danger past, God forgotten.

Scottish Proverb

There are only two ways to live your life.
One as though nothing is a miracle.
The other is as though everything is a miracle.

Albert Einstein (1879-1955), German physicist

Give thanks for unknown blessings already on their way.

Native American Prayer

It is not happiness that makes us thankful, but it is being thankful that makes us happy.

Scott Reed (1938-), African-American author

The word enthusiasm comes from the words "God in you".

Anonymous

What hunger is to food, enthusiasm is to life.

Bertrand Russell (1872-1970), Welsh philosopher and historian

To become enthusiastic, act like you are enthusiastic.

Percy H. Whiting, American writer, salesman, and speaker

Catch on fire with enthusiasm and people will come for miles to watch you burn.

John Wesley (1703-1791), English founder of the Methodist Church

Two people were watching a church burn down.
First person: I have never seen you at this church before.
Second person: That is because this church has never been on fire before.

Anonymous

There's one thing I wish I could give my family and that is the Christian religion. If they had that and I had not given them one cent, they would be rich.

Patrick Henry (1736-1799), American orator and politician

One religion is as true as another.

Robert Burton (1577-1640), English scholar at Oxford University

An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.

The Bible, Deuteronomy 19:21

23. Dreams and Hopes

The one without dreams is the one without wings.

Muhammad Ali (1942-), American boxer, philanthropist, and activist

To do great things, we must not only act, but also dream; not only plan, but also believe.

Anatole France (1844-1924), French poet, journalist, and novelist

Nothing happens... but first a dream.

Carl Sandburg (1878-1967), American writer and editor

Faith is the proof of things we cannot see.

The Bible, Hebrews 11:1

But I am a dreamer
So you sent me away.
Sometimes we dreamers
Just get in the way.

Shawn Mullins (1968-), American singer, Anchored In You

The only things that stand between a person and what they want in life are the will to try it and the faith to believe it is possible.

Rich Devos (1926-), American billionaire and co-founder of Amway

24. How to be Successful

I don't know the key to success, but the key to failing is trying to please everybody.

Bill Cosby (1937-), American comedian, actor, author, and musician

Success won't just come to you.
It has to be met at least halfway.

Frank Tyger (1929-2011), American political cartoonist

As a general rule the most successful man in life is the man who has the best information.

Benjamin Disraeli (1804-1881), former British Prime Minister

The easiest success measuring tool is a simple question:
What did you do today to move forward?

Rich DiGirolamo, American seminar speaker

Don't let life discourage you; everyone who got where he is had to begin where he was.

Richard L. Evans (1906-1971), American writer, Mormon leader, and former President of Rotary International

There is always room at the top.

Daniel Webster (1782-1852), American statesman and senator

Do the hard jobs first.
The easy jobs will take care of themselves.

Dale Carnegie (1888-1955), American self-improvement lecturer

The art of being wise is the art of knowing what to overlook.

William James (1842-1910), American psychologist and philosopher

The road up and the road down are one and the same.

Heraclitus (c. 540 to c.480 BC), Greek philosopher,

Diels & Kranz Die Fragmente der Vorsokratiker (1954)

If you don't like what you're doing, then don't do it.

Ray Bradbury (1920-), science fiction, fantasy, and horror writer

When God is come to mark against your name,
He writes not if you won or lost but how you played the game.

Grantland Rice (1880-1954), American sportswriter, Alumnus Football (1941)

25. Planning Ahead

Be prepared.

Boy Scout motto

By failing to prepare, you are preparing to fail.

Benjamin Franklin (1705-1790), inventor, statesman, philosopher

Your choices today make your tomorrow;
you make your life through the power of choice.

Kathy Smith

The time to fix the roof is when the sun is shining.

John F. Kennedy (1917-1963), 35th President of the United States

When the house closest to you is on fire, it does not hurt to put water on your own.

Edmund Burke (1729-1797), Irish statesman and philosopher
Reflections of the Revolution in France (1790), page 29

Dig the well before you are thirsty.

Chinese Proverb

A stitch in time saves nine.

Author unknown

The future belongs to those who prepare for it today.

Malcolm X (1925-1965), African-American Muslim minister and human rights activist

In life, as in chess, planning ahead wins.

Charles Buxton (1823-1871), English brewer, writer, philanthropist, MP

You never miss the water until the well has run dry.

Irish Proverb

For every minute you spend planning an hour is saved.

Benjamin Franklin (1705-1790), inventor, statesman, philosopher

A good plan now is better than a perfect plan next week.

George S. Patton (1885-1945), American army general

26. Time

The past is what we build on.
The present is what we build with.
The future is what we build.

Aurobindo Ghose (1872-1950), Indian freedom fighter and writer

The present holds all that there is. It is holy ground; for it is the past and it is the future.

Alfred North Whitehead (1861-1947), English mathematician,

I tell you the past is a bucket of ashes.

Carl Sandburg (1878-1967), Cornhuskers (1918), "Prairie"

My interest is in the future because I am going to spend the rest of my life there.

Charles F. Kettering (1876-1958), American inventor and engineer

The farther backward you can look,
the farther forward you are likely to see.

Winston Churchill (1874-1965), former British Prime Minister

Buy back the badly used time of the past, and live this day as if it were your last.

Thomas Ken (1637-1711), English cleric, bishop, and hymn-writer, Morning Hymn (1709)

We live life forward,
but we understand it backwards.

Soren Kierkegaard (1813-1855), Danish philosopher, Life

Tomorrow comes to us at midnight.
It's perfect when it arrives and it puts itself in our hands.
It hopes we've learned something from yesterday.

John Wayne (1907-1979), actor, film director, and producer

Today is the tomorrow that we worried about yesterday.

Author unknown

How did it get so late so soon?
It's night before it's afternoon.

Dr. Seuss (1904-1991). American writer, poet, and cartoonist

Life is the little shadow which runs across the grass and loses itself in the setting of the sun.

Crowfoot, last words (1890), Blackfoot warrior and orator

It is never too late to be what you might have been.

George Eliot/Marian Evans (1819-1880), English writer

This is your life and it's ending one minute at a time.

David Fincher (1962-), American film director

The more sand that leaves the hourglass of our lives, the clearer we should see.

Jean-Paul Sartre (1905-1980), French writer, philosopher and activist

We have only this minute, melting like a snow flake.
Let us use it before it is too late.

Marie Beyon Ray, 20th Century American writer, and editor of Vogue

Don't wait. The time will never be just right.

Napoleon Hill (1883-1970), American author

In times like these it helps to remember that there have always been times like these.

Paul Harvey (1918-2009), American radio broadcaster

What a difference a day makes!

Maria Grever (1894-1951), Mexican composer

Time is the great healer.

Benjamin Disraeli (1804-1881), Henrietta Temple (1837),

People talk of killing time,
but time is quietly killing them.

Dion Boucicault (1820-1890), London Assurance (1841), act 2, scene 1

Killing time is the name for one of many ways that time uses to kill us.

Osbert Sitwell (1892-1969), English writer, Milordo Inglese (1958)

The clock is always slow.
It is later than you think.

Robert W. Service (1874-1958), It is Later Than You Think (1921)

27. The Young and the Old

Everybody has been young before,

but not everybody has been old before.

African proverb

Believe the one who has been through it.

Virgil (70-19 BC), Roman poet, Aeneid book 10

To know the road ahead, ask those coming back.

Chinese Proverb

If you choose not to be made straight when you are green,
you will not be made straight when you are dry.

African proverb

Age does not protect you from love.
But love, in a way, protects you from age.

Jeanne Moreau (1928-), French actress, singer, writer, and director

When young, we learn.
When old, we understand.

Marie Ebner-Eschenbach (1830-1916), Austrian writer

The measure of life is not in its length, but in what we do with it.

Michel de Montaigne (1533-1592), Essai, No. 1, line 20

As long as you live, the first twenty years will be the longest half of your life.

Robert Southey (1774-1843), English poet, The Doctor

I'm seventeen and crazy.
My uncle says the two always go together.

Ray Bradbury (1920-), American writer, Fahrenheit 451 (1953)

I grow old, but I do not stop learning.

Solon (c. 640-556 BC), Greek poet and statesman, Poetae Lyrici Graeci (1843), number 18

Nobody grows old just by living a number of years. We grow old by losing our beliefs.

Samuel Ullman (1840-1924), American businessman and poet

We all want to live long.
But no one wants to be old.

Jonathon Swift (1667-1745), Irish writer, cleric, and political campaigner, Thoughts on Various Subjects

Being old is not so bad when you think about what the other choice is.

Author unknown

Old age is always fifteen years older than I am.

Bernard M. Baruch (1870-1965), American financier and statesman

Forty is the old age of youth, and fifty is the youth of old age.

Victor Hugo (1802-1885), French writer and statesman

If you live to be one hundred, you've got it made. Very few people die past that age.

George Burns (1896-1996), American actor, comedian, and writer

The fountain of youth is boring as paint.
Methuselah is my most loved saint.
I've never been so comfortable before,
Oh I'm so glad I'm not young any more.

Alan Jay Lerner (1918-1986), American lyricist

I don't worry about getting old. I'm old already.

Only young people worry about getting old.

George Burns (1896-1996), American actor, comedian, and writer

You know you are getting old when the candles cost more than the cake.

Bob Hope (1903-2003), American comedian and actor

28. Family Life

What God has joined together, let no man pull apart.

Jesus, Matthew 19:6

Yes, do marry.
If you get a good wife, you'll be happy.
If you get a bad one you'll become a philosopher.

Socrates (469-399 BC), Greek philosopher

Husbands, love your wives, and be not bitter against them.

The Bible, Colossians 3:19

I would be married, but I'd have no wife;
I would be married to a single life.

Richard Crashaw (c. 1613-1649), English poet

Never shall I say that marriage brings more happiness than pain.

Euripides (480 BC - 406 BC), Greek playwright

The music at a wedding always makes me think of the music of soldiers going into battle.

Heinrich Heine (1797-1856), German poet and literary critic

From Jesus we learn that the great curse of Sodom and Gomorrah was not being homosexual.
It was buying and selling, planting and building, and getting married.

Anonymous

All married people should learn the art of battle.
Good battle is honest, and never cruel.
Good battle is healthy and brings a feeling of both people being equal.

Ann Landers (Epple Lederer), (1918-2002), advice columnist

Real love is having someone who'll go the distance with you. Someone who, when the wedding day limo breaks down,
is willing to share a seat on the bus.

Oprah Winfrey (1954-), talk show host, O Magazine, February 2004

The only two people who count in any marriage are the two that are in it.

Hillary Rodham Clinton (1947-), 67th U.S. Secretary of State

We were happily married for eight months.
But we were married for four and a half years.

Nick Faldo (1957-), English professional golfer

Wife and Servant are the same,
But only different in the name.

Mary Chudleigh (1656-1710), English feminist writer

We men have got love well weighed up;

we can get by without it.
Women don't seem to think that's good enough;
They write about it.

Kingsley Amis (1922-1995), English writer and teacher

If men had to have babies, they would only ever have one.

Diana, Princess of Wales (1961-1997), first wife of Prince Charles

All that women do,
they must do twice as well as men before people will think they are half as good.

Charlotte Whitton (1896-1975), Canadian feminist & Mayor of Ottawa, Canada Month June, 1963

If all men are born free,
how is it that all women are born slaves?

Mary Astell (1666-1731), English feminist writer

I do not want women to control men;
but to be able to control themselves.

Mary Wollstonecraft (1759-1797), English feminist writer & philosopher
A Vindication of the Rights of Women (1792), chapter 4

When men are scared of a woman, they always say that she is acting like a man.

Elizabeth Aston, English novelist, The Second Mrs. Darcy, 2007

Look like a girl, act like a woman, think like a man, and work like a dog.

Caroline K. Simon (1900-1993), American lawyer and politician

Never marry a man who hates his mother, because he'll end up hating you.

Jill Bennett (1931-1990), British actress

As is the mother, so is her daughter.

The Bible, Ezekiel 16:44

Parents love their children more than children love their parents.

Aristotle, (384-322 BC), Greek philosopher, Auctoritates Aristotelis

There is no such thing as other people's children.

Hillary Rodham Clinton (1947-), 67th U.S. Secretary of State

The most interesting thing about America, is the way the parents obey their children.

Edward VIII (1894-1972), King of England, who abdicated in 1936

God lends you your children until they're about eighteen years old. If you haven't made your points with them by then, it's too late.

Betty Ford (1918-2011), U.S. First Lady from 1974-1977

We worry about what a child will be tomorrow, yet we forget that he is someone today.

Stacia Tauscher, possibly 17th Century writer

It is easier to live through someone else than to become whole yourself.

Betty Friedan (1921-2006), American writer, activist, and feminist Children begin by loving their parents.

After a time they judge them.
They almost never forgive them.

Oscar Wilde (1854-1900), Irish writer and poet

To a child, one of the clearest truths about adults is that they have forgotten

what it was like to be a child.

Randall Jarrell (1914-1965), American writer and poet laureate

A child's life is like a piece of paper on which every person leaves a mark.

Chinese Proverb

There are only two lasting gifts we can give our children...
one is roots, the other wings.

Stephen Covey (1932-), American author

A mother is not a person to lean on,
but a person to free you from the need to lean.

Dorothy Fisher (1879-1958), American author and social activist

Many inventions had their birth as toys.

Eric Hoffer (1902-1983), American author

We are the people
our parents warned us about.

Jimmy Buffett (1946-), American singer, author, and film producer

A good son makes a good husband.

American proverb

The reason grandparents and grandchildren get along so well is because they have the same enemy.

Sam Levenson (1911-1980), American humourist, writer, and TV host

Never have children, only grandchildren.

Gore Vidal (1925-), American writer and political activist Family isn't about whose blood you have. It's about who you care about.

Trey Parker & Matt Stone, creators of the U.S. TV series South Park

For thirty years my mother served the family nothing but leftovers.
The first meal has never been found.

Calvin Trillin (1935-), American writer and humourist

My grandmother started walking five miles a day when she was sixty.
She's ninety-seven now, and we don't know where on earth she is.

Ellen DeGeneres (1958-), American comedienne and talk show host

A man's home is his castle.

Edward Coke, The Institutes of the Laws of England, 1628

A child who does the right thing makes his father happy;

but a foolish son or daughter brings sadness to her mother.

The Bible, Proverbs 10:1

The family that prays together stays together.

Al Scalpone, motto for the Catholic Family Rosary Crusade, 1947

A prophet is not without honour, apart from in his own country, and in his own house.

Jesus, St Matthew 13:57

29. Friends

There is a friend that sticks closer than a brother.

The Bible, Proverbs 18:24

We can live without a brother, but not without a friend.
A friend is one spirit living in two bodies.

Aristophanes (c. 450-c. 385 BC), Greek comic playwright

God gives us relatives.
Thank God we can choose our friends.

Ethel Mumford (c. 1877-1940), American author

Think where happiness starts and ends, and say
“My happiness is that I had good friends.”

W. B. Yeats (1865-1939), Irish poet and playwright,
The Municipal Gallery Re-visited (1939)

Don't walk in front of me, I may not follow.

Don't walk behind me, I may not lead.
Walk beside me and be my friend.

Albert Camus (1913-1960), French author and philosopher

One never reaches home, but wherever friendly paths meet the whole world looks like home for a time.

Hermann Hesse (1877-1962), German writer, painter & Nobel laureate

There are no strangers here;
Only friends you have not yet met.

William Butler Yeats (1865-1939), Irish poet and playwright

It takes a lot of courage to show your dreams to someone else.

Erma Bombeck (1927-1996), American humourist, author, & columnist

Open not your heart to every man.

The Bible, Ecclesiasticus 8:19

You cannot buy friends;
but you can sometimes rent them.

Anonymous

Love comes from being blind;
friends from knowledge.

Roger de Rabutin (1618-1693), French memoirist

To find a friend one must close one eye.

To keep him - two.

Norman Douglas (1868-1952), English writer

Before borrowing money from a friend, think about which you need more.

Addison H. Hallock (biographic details unknown)

Your friend is the man who knows all about you and still likes you.

Elbert Hubbard (1865-1915), American writer, artist, and philosopher

The best mirror is an old friend.

George Herbert (1593-1633), Welsh orator and Anglican priest

Our friends, the enemy.

Pierre-Jean de Beranger (1780-1857), French poet and song-writer

There is nothing like the razor sharp tongue of a good friend to cut through the lies we tell ourselves.

Laura Moncur, motivational speaker, Merriton

A true friend thinks you're a good egg even though he knows you're a little cracked.

Bernard Meltzer (1916-1998), Harvard graduate and radio show host

A friend is a present you give yourself.

Robert Louis Stevenson (1850-1894), Scottish novelist and writer

If you want friends, you must first be friendly.

The Bible, Proverbs 18:24

A trouble shared is a trouble cut in half.

Early 20th century proverb

A faithful friend is the medicine of life.

The Bible, Ecclesiasticus 5:15

30. Working Together

We must learn to live together as brothers, or perish together as fools.

Martin Luther King (1929-1968), civil rights activist, & Baptist minister

Do not protect yourself by a fence, but rather by your friends.

Czech proverb

Throw your heart over the fence and the rest will follow.

Norman Vincent Peale (1898-1993), American minister and author

The heart that gives, gathers.

Marianne Moore (1887-1972), American poet

Two heads are better than one.

Author unknown

All for one, and one for all.

Alexandre Dumas (1802-1870), French writer,
The Three Musketeers (1844), chapter 9

No man is an island.

John Donne (1572-1631), English poet, lawyer, and priest

Together we stand; divided we fall.

John Dickinson (1732-1808), American lawyer and politician
Writings of John Dickinson volume 1 (1895), page 421

We are, each of us, angels with only one wing.
We can only fly by hugging one another.

Luciano de Crescenzo (1928-),
Italian writer, actor, and engineer

When you live on a round planet, there's no choosing sides.

Wayne Dyer (1940-), American self-help author and lecturer

From each as they have ability, to each as they have need.

Karl Marx (1818-1883), German philosopher, historian, and journalist

Each affects the other and the other affects the next,
and the world is full of stories,
but the stories are all one.

Mitch Albom, American writer and radio and TV broadcaster,
The Five People You Meet in Heaven

When evil people come together, good people must come together too,
or they will fall one by one.

Edmund Burke (1729-1797), Irish statesman and philosopher
Thoughts on the Cause of the Present Discontents (1770), page 71

My life belongs to the whole community,
and as long as I live,
I will be happy to do for it whatever I can.
I want to be all used up when I die,
for the harder I work, the more I live.

George Bernard Shaw (1856-1950), Irish playwright

No cruel leader need fear until men begin to feel confident in each other.

Aristotle (384-322 BC), Greek philosopher, student of Plato

The dwarf sees farther than the giant, when he has the giant's shoulder to mount on.

Samuel Taylor Coleridge (1772-1834), English poet and philosopher

It is not for one to pride himself for loving his own country, but rather for loving the whole world.
The earth is but one country.

Baha'u'llah (1817-1892), Persian founder of the Baha'i Faith

31. Political Life

Ask not what your country can do for you;
ask what you can do for your country.

John F. Kennedy (1917-1963), 35th U.S. President, Inaugural address, 20 January, 1961, Vital Speeches 1 February, 1961

The whole country is not in flames;
there are people in the country besides politicians, entertainers, and criminals.

Charles Kuralt (1937-1997), American journalist

I don't want to cover myself in the flag, because I'm afraid I'll get burned.

Warren Burger (1907-1995), 15th Chief Justice of the United States

The power to tax brings the power to destroy.

John Marshall (1755-1835), former Chief Justice of the U.S.

The reason there are so few female politicians is that it is too much trouble to put makeup on two faces.

Maureen Murphy (1952-2008), American politician
Like Caesar's wife, all things to all men.

A newly-elected mayor, saying that he would be fair to all.

When I gave food to the poor, they called me a saint.
When I asked why the poor were hungry, they called me a communist.

Helder Camara (1909-1999), Roman Catholic Archbishop

I am just one thing only, and that is a clown.
It puts me far above any politician.

Charlie Chaplin (1889-1977), English comic actor, composer, director

One who does not vote has no right to complain.

Louis L'Amour (1908-1988), American author

If presidents wouldn't do it to their wives, then why would they do it to their countrymen?
Arthur Tugman (1938-), American author of books on success
Who will guard the guards?

Juvenal (55-127 AD), Roman poet and satirist

When the President says something on Monday, he still believes it on Wednesday-- no matter what happened on Tuesday.

Stephen Colbert (1964-), American actor, writer, and TV host, speech at White House correspondents' dinner, April 30, 2006

32. War and Peace

These politicians are all about sending people to war, but they don't know what it's all about,
having bombs go off, hearing bullets fly by.
They have no idea what that's like.

Antonio Molina, returned soldier

We Americans, we're a simple people... but make us angry, and we'll bomb your cities.

Robin Williams (1951-), American actor and comedian

Choose the right weapon for the job.
You cannot change people's hearts with guns.

Author unknown

Strength lies not in defense but in attack.

Adolf Hitler (1889-1945), German dictator

There is no honour in battle worth the blood it costs.

Dwight Eisenhower (1890-1969), army general & 34th U.S. President

Force is not an answer.

John Bright (1811-1889), The Times 17 November, 1880

What can wars give us
but more wars?

John Milton (1608-1674), English poet and civil servant
On the Lord General Fairfax at the Siege of Colchester (1648)

In war there are no winners.
All are losers.

Neville Chamberlain (1869-1940), British Prime Minister, 1937-1940 speech at Kettering, in The Times 4 July, 1938

They that live by the sword will die by the sword.

The Bible, Matthew 26:52

All is fair in love and war.

John Lyly (1553-1606), English writer, Euphues (1578)

Where do wars come from?
They come from your greed.
When you cannot get what you want,
you fight and kill for it.

The Bible, James 4:1-2

When war starts,
Truth is the first to die.

Samuel Johnson (1709-1784), English writer and lexicographer
The Idler number 30 (11 November, 1785)

The fastest way to end a war is to lose it.

George Orwell (1903-1950), Irish playwright,
Polemic May, 1946 'Second Thoughts on James Burnham'

They say that a book is important if it is about men at war;
but it is not important if it is about the feelings of women in their living rooms.

Virginia Woolf (1882-1941), English writer

I know not with what weapons World War III will be fought, but World War IV will be fought with sticks and stones.

Albert Einstein (1879-1955), German physicist

Some day they will give a war and nobody will come.

Carl Sandburg (1878-1967), American writer, The People, Yes (1936), Sleep before you fight.

It's not too late tomorrow to be brave.

John Armstrong (1709-1779), Scottish doctor and poet,
The Art of Preserving Health

We should not talk out of fear, but we should not fear to talk.

John F. Kennedy (1917-1963), 35th President of the United States,
Vital Speeches, 1 February, 1961

I think that people want peace so much that one of these days governments had better get out of the way and let them have it.

Dwight Eisenhower (1890-1969), army general & 34th U.S. President

If everyone wanted peace instead of another television, then there'd be peace.

John Lennon (1940-1980), English musician, singer, and songwriter

While you are talking peace with your lips, be careful to have it even more fully in your heart.

Francis of Assisi (1181-1226), Italian Catholic preacher

If we are to teach real peace in this world, and if we are to carry on a real war against war,
we shall have to begin with the children.

Mohandas Gandhi (1869-1948), pacifist & ideological leader of India

There was never a good war or a bad peace.

Benjamin Franklin (1705-1790), inventor, statesman, philosopher

War is the business of kings.

John Dryden (1631-1700), English writer, literary critic and translator

There is no need to go to India or anywhere else to find peace.
You will find that right in your room.

Elisabeth Kubler-Ross (1926-2004), American psychiatrist

If you cannot find peace inside yourself, you will never find it anywhere else.

Marvin Gaye (1939-1984), American singer and songwriter

'There is no rest,' says God,
'for evil people.'

The Bible, Isaiah 48:22

33. Happiness

The greatest happiness for the most people is the bottom line for what is right, and for making the rules of any country.

Jeremy Bentham (1748-1832), Commonplace Book in J. Bowring (ed.), Works volume 10 (1843), page 142

The place to be happy is here.
The time to be happy is now.
The way to be happy is to make others happy.

Ma Yogashakti Saraswati (1927-), Indian yoga teacher

Ask yourself if you are happy, and you will stop being happy.

John Stuart Mill (1806-1873), in his autobiography (1873), ch. 5

What can be added to the happiness of a man who is in good health, out of debt, and has a clear conscience?

Adam Smith (1723-1790), social philosopher

The secret to living the happiest life is to live dangerously.

Friedrich Nietzsche (1844-1900), poet, philosopher, composer
Die Fröhliche Wissenschaft (1882), book 3, section 116

One swallow does not make a summer.

In the same way, one day of happiness does not make a person fully happy.

Aristotle (384-322 B.C), philosopher & teacher of Alexander the Great

I never think of the future.
It comes soon enough.

Albert Einstein (1879-1955), Austrian physicist

Help your brother's boat across, and look!
your own has reached the other side.

Hindu Proverb

Happiness is a perfume you cannot pour on others without getting some on yourself.

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882), American writer and lecturer

To be stupid, selfish, and healthy are needed for happiness, but if one is not stupid, all is lost.

Gustave Flaubert (1821-1880), French writer

The happiness of your life is built on the quality of your thoughts.

Marcus Aurelius Antoninus (121-180 AD), Roman emperor from 161 AD

When someone does something good, clap!
You will make two people happy.

Samuel Goldwyn (1879-1974), American film producer and executive

You are happiest
if you do not try to be happier.

John Milton (1608-1674), English poet, Paradise Lost (1667), book 5

One has no better thing to do under the sun than to eat and to drink and to be happy.

Bible, Ecclesiastes 8:15

Happiness is losing all that you have... and after a time... receiving it back again.

Anonymous

Yesterday is dead. Tomorrow hasn't arrived yet.
I have just one day, today,
and I'm going to be happy in it.

Groucho Marx (1890-1977), American comedian and film star

Happiness always comes after pain.

Guillaume Apollinaire (1880-1918), French writer, Le Pont Mirabeau

Happiness makes up in height what it does not have in length.

Robert Frost (1874-1963), American poet, title of a poem (1942),

People take different roads looking for happiness.
Just because they're not on your road doesn't mean they're lost.

Jackson Brown, Jr., American author

Be happy while you're living, for you're a long time dead.

Scottish proverb

For every minute you are angry you lose sixty seconds of happiness.

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882), American writer and lecturer

34. Being Bitter or Forgiving?

The only person who cannot be helped is that person who blames others.

Carl Rogers (1902-1987), American psychologist

To be wronged is nothing unless you go on remembering it.

Confucius (551 BC- 459 BC), Chinese philosopher

Being bitter is like cancer.
It eats the one who has it.

Maya Angelou (1923-), American author and poet

Hate does not stop in this world by hating, but by not hating; this is an eternal truth.

Guatama Buddha (c. 563 BC - c. 483 BC), Indian spiritual leader

Hate destroys the one who hates more than the one who is hated.

Anonymous

Those who hate you don't win unless you hate them.
And then you destroy yourself.

Richard M. Nixon (1913-1994), 37th President of the United States

You can't shake hands with a closed fist.

Indira Gandhi (1917-1984), third Prime Minister of the Republic of India

Fighting fire with fire only gets you ashes!

Abigail van Buren (Pauline Phillips), (1918-), American advice columnist ("Dear Abby"), and Radio Show host

Anger is being crazy for a short time.

Horace (65-8 BC), Roman lyric poet, Epistles, book 1, number 2

If you hate a person, you hate something in that person that is part of yourself.
What is not a part of us does not make us angry.

Hermann Hesse (1877-1962), German poet and painter Demian ch. 6

In time, we hate what we often fear.

William Shakespeare (1564-1616), English playwright,
Antony and Cleopatra act 1, scene 3

Two wrongs do not make one right.

B. Rush, a letter written in 1783

Good people give and forgive.
Bad people get and forget.

Swami Chinmayananda (1916-1993), Indian Hindu spiritual leader

He who asks for mercy, but shows none, burns the bridges over which he himself must later pass.

Thomas Adams (1871-1940), English pioneer of urban planning

Anger makes you smaller, while forgiveness forces you to grow bigger than what you were.

Cherie Carter-Scott (1949-), American self-help author

Forgiveness is our most important gift to the healing of the world.

Marianne Williamson (1952-), American author, and spiritual activist

Forgiving those who hurt us is the key to inner peace.

G. Weatherly (1865-1940), a founder of American Sociological Society

If someone hits you on the right cheek, turn to him the other also.

Jesus, Matthew 5:39

Give him enough rope and he will hang himself.

Emily Bronte (1818-1848), English author of Wuthering Heights

Everyone says forgiveness is a lovely idea, until they have something to forgive.

C. S. Lewis (1898-1963), Irish writer, academic, & Christian apologist

Forgiveness is a funny thing.

It warms the heart and cools the burn.

William Arthur Ward (1921-1924), American writer of short sayings

Love is living. Hate is dying.

Swami Vivekananda (1863-1902), Hindu philosopher

It is kind to forgive, but stupid to forget.

Anonymous

Forgive your enemies, but never forget their names.

John F. Kennedy (1917-1963), 35th President of the United States

35. Arguments

Most of our so-called reasoning is made up of us finding arguments for going on believing as we already do.

James Harvey Robinson (1863-1936), American historian

I learned long ago never to roll with a pig. You get dirty, and besides, the pig likes it.

Cyrus Ching (1876-1967), Canadian industrialist and union mediator

The only argument available against an east wind is to put on your coat.

James Russell Lowell (1819-1891), American poet, editor, and diplomat

Use soft words and hard arguments.

English proverb

I am not arguing with you;
I am telling you!

James McNeill Whistler (1834-1903), American artist,
The Gentle Art of Making Enemies (1890), page 51

When you are right, no one remembers;
when you are wrong, no one forgets.

Irish Saying

Stupid people feel it makes them look better if they can say others are not perfect.

Isaac D'Israeli (1766-1848), British writer and scholar, and father of British Prime Minister, Benjamin Disraeli

A rat who chews at a cat's tail is asking for destruction.

Chinese Proverb

When you have an elephant by the back leg, and he is trying to run away,
it's best to let him run.

Abraham Lincoln (1809-1865), 1809-1865, 16th U.S. President

A good listener tries to understand what the other person is saying.
In the end he may disagree sharply, but because he disagrees, he wants to know very clearly what it is he is disagreeing with.

Kenneth A. Wells, American author, Guide to Good Leadership (1956)

One does not need to understand things to argue about them.

Pierre Beaumarchais (1732-1799), French watchmaker, arms dealer, inventor, musician, diplomat, spy, publisher, financier, and revolutionary

36. Patience

He that has patience can have what he will.

Benjamin Franklin (1705-1790), inventor, statesman, philosopher

With love and patience, nothing is impossible.

Daisaku Ideda (1928-), Japanese Buddhist lay leader

You must first have a lot of patience to learn to have patience.

Stanislaw J. Lec (1909-1966), Polish poet, Unkempt Thoughts

Never discourage anyone who is getting better, no matter how slowly.

Plato (429-347 BC), Greek mathematician and philosopher

The hurrier I go the behinder I get.

Lewis Carroll (1832-1898), American author, Alice in Wonderland

Never cut what you can untie.

Joseph Joubert (1754-1824), French moralist and essayist

Patience is the friend of wisdom.

St Augustine of Hippo (354-430), philosopher and theologian

Rome wasn't built in a day.

translated from French, Le Proverbe au Vilain (c. 1190)

37. Teaching and Learning

A teacher affects eternity.

Henry Adams (1838-1918), American writer, historian, and academic,
The Education of Henry Adams

I am patient with stupid people, but not with those who are proud of it.

Edith Sitwell (1887-1964), English poet

Not to know is bad.
Not to wish to know is worse.

African proverb

People need to be helped to remember more often than they need to be taught.

Samuel Johnson (1709-1784), English writer and lexicographer

It is easier to make a camel jump a channel than to make a fool listen to reason.

Turkish Proverb

Teachers open the door, but you must go through by yourself.

Chinese Proverb

A teacher is a second parent, and a parent is a second teacher.
People learn when they teach too.

Seneca the Younger (c. 4 BC-65 AD), Roman philosopher, statesman, and dramatist, Epistulae Morales no. 7

We loved the teaching because we loved the teacher.

Daniel Defoe (1660-1731), Character of the late Dr. S. Annesley

I'd rather see a sermon than hear one any day.
I'd rather one should walk with me than just to tell the way.
The eye's a better student and more willing than the ear.
Good words can be confusing,
but a sample's always clear.

Edgar A. Guest (1881-1959), English-American poet

Better to build schools for the boy than prisons for the man.

Eliza Cook (1818-1889), A Song for the Ragged Schools (1853)

The stupidest person can ask more questions than the smartest person can answer.

Charles Caleb Colton (c. 1780-1832), English cleric, Lacon (1820)

The ability to ask the right question is more than half the battle of finding the answer.

Thomas J. Watson (1874-1956), IBM Pres.

What the foolish person finishes up doing,
the wise person starts out doing.

Author unknown

One picture is worth a thousand words.

Frederick R. Barnard, Printer's Ink trade journal, December 8, 1921

One word to the wise is enough.

Plautus (c. 250-184 BC), Roman playwright, Persa line 729

In your thirst for knowledge, be sure not to drown in all the information.

Anthony J. D'Angelo, self-help author, The College Blue Book

Information is power.

Eric Schmidt (1955-), american engineer and chairman of Google, University of Pennsylvania commencement address, 2009

So far as I can remember, there is not one word in the Gospels saying that it is good to be smart.

Bertrand Russell (1872-1970), Welsh philosopher and historian

Information is not knowledge,
Knowledge is not understanding,
Understanding is not wisdom.

Cliff Stoll & Gary Schubert, Nothing to Hide, (2000)

I do not know how others see me, but to myself
I feel like a boy playing on the beach – showing interest from time to time in a smoother stone or a more beautiful shell, when the big ocean of truth is in front of me and I do not see it .

Isaac Newton (1642-1727), English mathematician, philosopher, astronomer, physicist, and theologian, Joseph Spence Anecdotes (1966),

Anyone who stops learning is old,
whether at twenty or eighty.
Anyone who keeps learning stays young. The greatest thing in life is to keep your mind young.

Henry Ford (1863-1947), American automobile industrialist, who pioneered assembly-line production

Whoever stops being a student has never been a student.

George Iles (1852-1942), English writer

Real education should link us with all other humans.

Nancy Astor (1879-1964), first British female MP

Education is when you read the small print.
Experience is what you get if you don't.

Pete Seeger (1919-), American folk singer, and songwriter

Education is what survives when what has been learned has been forgotten.

B. F. Skinner (1904-1990), American psychologist, inventor, author, philosopher, and poet, New Scientist, May 21, 1964

Listening is very cheap;
not listening could be very expensive!

Tom Brewer (1931-), American baseball player

Live as if you were to die tomorrow.
Learn as if you were to live forever.

Mohandas Gandhi (1869-1948), pacifist & ideological leader of India

They know enough who know how to learn.

Henry Adams (1838-1918), American writer, historian, and academic,
The Education of Henry Adams (1907), ch. 21

As long as I live, I will learn.

Sri Ramakrishna (1836-1886), Indian mystic

I was brought up to believe that the only thing worth doing was to add to the sum of true information in the world.

Margaret Mead (1901-1978), American cultural anthropologist

Wisdom is not tested in the schools.
Wisdom cannot be passed from one having it to another not having it, Wisdom is its own proof.

Walt Whitman (1819-1892), American poet, essayist and journalist

No one lights a candle and puts it under a bowl.

Jesus, Matthew 5:15

Open a school, and close a prison.

Victor Hugo (1802-1885), French writer and statesman

People who can, do.
People who cannot, teach.

George Bernard Shaw (1856-1950), Man and Superman (1903)

Try not to let schooling get in the way of your education.

Mark Twain (1835-1910), American author and humourist

Without education, we are in deadly danger of taking educated people seriously.

G. K. Chesterton (1874-1936), English writer and Christian apologist

One day with a smart person is equal to a whole life with a stupid person.

Arabian proverb

Keep the old, but learn the new.

Chinese proverb

Knowledge is of two kinds.
We know a subject ourselves, or we know where we can find information on it.

Samuel Johnson (1709-1784), English writer and lexicographer

38. Reading and Writing

The greatest university is a lot of books.

Thomas Carlyle (1795-1881), Scottish writer, historian, and teacher

Books are the quietest friends and the most patient teachers.

Charles W. Eliot (1834-1926), American academic, The Happy Life

True power is held by the person who owns the biggest book shelf, not the biggest gun cabinet or the most money.

Anthony J. D'Angelo, American self-help author

A house without books is a house without windows.

Thomas Mann (1875-1955), German writer and philanthropist

An empty book is like a baby's soul, in which anything may be written.

Thomas Traherne (1637-1674), English poet and religious writer

Writing books is the closest men ever come to having children.

Norman Mailer (1923-2007), American writer and film director

In any place where books will be burned, in the end people too will be burned.

Heinrich Heine (1797-1856), German poet, Almansor (1823)

Of making books
there is no end.

The Bible, Ecclesiastes 12:12

Everywhere I go,
I find a poet has been there before me.

Sigmund Freud (1856-1939), Austrian founder of psychoanalysis

I think it's good that we have books, but they do make me sleepy.

Frank Zappa (1940-1993), American composer, singer, film director

A good book is the best friend.

Martin Tupper (1810-1889), English writer and poet, Proverbial Philosophy, Series I (1838), 'Of Reading'

Choose a writer as you choose a friend.

Wentworth Dillon (1630-1685), poet, fourth Earl of Roscommon

Take up and read!
Take up and read!

St Augustine of Hippo (354-430), philosopher and theologian
Confessions (397-398), book 8, chapter 7

If there's a book you really want to read, and it hasn't been written yet,

then you must write it.

Toni Morrison (1932-), American novelist, professor and Nobel winner

I am a bear of very little brain, and long words upset me.

Winnie the Pooh (A.A. Milne creation)

Say all you have to say, in the fewest possible words.

John Ruskin (1819-1900), English art critic and philanthropist

Good things, when short, are twice as good.

Baltasar Gracian (1601-1658), Spanish Jesuit writer

I believe more in the scissors than I do in the pen.

Truman Capote (1924-1984), American author

39. Talking

Not that the story need be long, but it will take a long time to make it short.

Henry David Thoreau (1817-1862), letter to Harrison Blake, 16 November, 1857, in Writings (1906), volume 6, page 320

If A is success, then A equals X plus Y plus Z, X is work, Y is play, Z is keep your mouth shut.

Albert Einstein (1879-1955), Austrian physicist, Observer, Jan. 15, 1950

A fool says all that he or she is thinking.

The Bible, Proverbs 29:11

The secret to being boring is to tell all that you know.

Voltaire (1694-1778), French writer, historian, and philosopher,
Discours en vers sur l'homme (1737), 'De la nature de l'homme'

Think all that you say, but do not say all that you think.

Author unknown

Give every man your ear but few your voice.

William Shakespeare (1564-1616), English playwright

Because the parrot talks so much,
it is shut up in a cage.
Other birds, who do not speak, fly freely about.

Saskia Pandita (1182-1251), Tibetan spiritual leader, Buddhist scholar

When you have nothing to say, say nothing.

Charles Caleb Colton (c. 1780-1832), English cleric, Lacon (1820)

Understand the subject, and the words will follow.

Cato the Elder (234-149 BC), Roman statesman, in Caius Julius Victor Ars Rhetorica 'De inventione'

Close your lips and open your heart.

Swami Vivekananda (1863-1902), Hindu philosopher

The less you think, the more you talk.

Montesquieu (1689-1755), French social commentator

Dogs that are afraid bark loudest.

John Webster (c.1580 – c.1634), English dramatist

Making noise is a good way of showing opposition.

Joseph Goebbels (1897-1945), Nazi Germany's Minister of Propaganda

Speak for England.

Leo Amery (1873-1955), British politician and journalist

Talk softly, but carry a big stick.
You will go far.

Theodore Roosevelt (1858-1919), 26th President of the U.S., 3 April, 1903, New York Times, 4 April, 1903

If you can't bite, don't show your teeth.

Jewish proverb

Your words should always be sweet, with a little touch of salt.

The Bible, Colossians 4:6

Propaganda is a soft weapon:
hold it in your hands too long,
and it will move about like a snake,
and hit out the other way.

Lillian Hellman (1905-1984), American playwright

If you haven't got anything good to say about anyone come and sit by me.

Alice Roosevelt Longworth (1884-1980), controversial daughter of Theodore Roosevelt, 26th President of the United States

Where everything is bad
it must be good to know the worst.

F. H. Bradley (1846-1924), English philosopher

Those who are not here are always in the wrong.

Philippe Nericault Destouches (1680-1754), French dramatist

In the country of the blind
the one-eyed man is king.

Desiderius Erasmus (1466-1536), Dutch humanist and priest

The night has a thousand eyes, and the day but one.

F.W. Bourdillon (1852-1921), English poet and translator

Words once spoken can never be brought back.

Wentworth Dillon (1630-1685), English poet

40. Who to Believe

Anyone who can handle a needle well can make us see a thread which is not there.

E. H. Gombrich (1909-2001), Austrian art historian

Men are nearly always willing to believe what they wish.

Julius Caesar (100 BC-44 BC), Roman writer, general, and statesman

We see what we want to see.

Anonymous

There is something worse than being blind, and that is seeing something that isn't there.

Thomas Hardy (1840-1928), English novelist and poet

Living is easy with eyes closed, misunderstanding all you see.

John Lennon (1940-1980), English songwriter, Strawberry Fields

You see, but you do not understand.

Arthur Conan Doyle (1859-1930), Scottish physician and writer
The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes (1892),

With all of your getting get understanding.

The Bible, Proverbs 4:7

Keep your brain working to do things;
and keep it open to understand things.

Chinese proverb

Believe nothing of what you hear, and only half of what you see.

Benjamin Franklin (1706-1790), American statesman, scientist, philosopher, printer, writer and inventor

A camel never sees its own back.

African proverb

Look out for false prophets!
They come to you in sheep's clothes,
but in their hearts they are dangerous wolves.

Jesus, Matthew 7:15

Do not trust all men, but trust men of worth.

Democritus (460-370 BC), Greek philosopher

If it looks like a duck and it walks like a duck and it sounds like a duck, then I say it is a duck.

James Whitcomb Riley (1849–1916), American poet

Where there's smoke, there's fire

Author unknown

Truth is beautiful, but so are lies.

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882), American writer and lecturer

Those who think it is okay to tell white lies soon grow colour-blind.

Austin O'Malley (1858-1932), American physician and humourist

I was not lying.
I said things that later seemed to not be true.

Richard Nixon (1913-1994), 37th President of the U.S., on Watergate,

You may be tricked if you trust too much; but you will live in pain if you do not trust enough.

Frank Crane (1868-1921), Presbyterian minister and writer

No one tests how deep the river is by using both feet.

African proverb

41. Confidence

Confidence comes not from always being right but from not fearing to be wrong.

Peter T. McIntyre (1910-1995), New Zealand artist and author

If you have no confidence in yourself, you lose twice in the race of life. With confidence, you have won even before you have started.

Marcus Garvey (1887-1940), Jamaican journalist and orator

Everybody is stupid, only on different subjects.

Will Rogers (1879-1935), American cowboy and comedian

Confidence on the outside begins by living with integrity on the inside.

Brian Tracy (1944-), self-help author

They can, because they think they can.

Virgil (70-19 BC), Roman poet, Aeneid, book 5

Always keep your head up, but be careful to keep your nose at a friendly level.

Max L. Forman (1909-1990), Jewish-American writer

The minute you start talking about what you're going to do if you lose, you have lost.

George Shultz (1920-), American statesman and businessman

The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams.

Eleanor Roosevelt (1884-1962), American author, speaker, politician

How little do we know of what we are.
How much less do we know of what we could be.

George Byron (1788-1824), English poet, Don Juan (1819-1824)

We know what we are,
but not what we can be.

William Shakespeare (1564-1616), English playwright,
Hamlet act 4, scene 5

If you smile at life, life will smile at you.

Author unknown

42. Positive Thinking

Life is just a bowl of cherries.

Bob Fosse (1927-1987), actor, dancer, screenwriter, director

If life gives you a lemon, make lemonade.

Author unknown

Keep your face to the sunlight and you cannot see the shadows.

Helen Keller (1880-1968), deaf-blind American author and lecturer

Count your blessings, and not your troubles.

Author unknown

The jungle is dark but full of diamonds.

Arthur Miller (1915-2005), American writer, Death of a Salesman

Before you put on a sad look, make sure there are no smiles available.

Jim Beggs (1926-), sixth administrator of NASA

Shoot for the moon.
Even if you miss, you'll end up with the stars.

Les Brown, African-American motivational speaker

One cannot get through life without pain...
What we can do is choose how to use the pain that life gives to us.

Bernie Siegel, American doctor and lecturer

Hate drinks the greater part of her own poison, and destroys herself.

Michel de Montaigne (1533-1592), French essayist

A positive attitude may not fix all your problems, but it will upset enough people to make it worth the work.

Herm Albright (1876-1944), German painter and lithographer

The more you teach positive ideas to others,

the better you learn them yourself.

Brian Tracy (1944-), Canadian self-help author

The only thing that stands between a man and what he wants from life is often just the will to try it and the faith to believe that it is possible.

Richard Devos (1926-), American billionaire & co-founder of Amway

Write your sad times in sand, and your good times in stone.

George Bernard Shaw (1856-1950), Irish playwright

You have no control over what the other guy does.
You only have control over what you do.

A. J. Kitt (1968-), American alpine ski champion

It is not a lucky word, this name "impossible".
No good comes of those who have it so often in their mouths.

Thomas Carlyle (1795-1881), Scottish writer, historian, and teacher

It's no use carrying an umbrella if your shoes have holes in them.

Irish proverb

It's kind of fun to do the impossible.

Walt Disney (1901-1966), American animator, film producer, entrepreneur, screen writer, voice actor, and philanthropist,

The most rewarding things you do in life are often the ones that look like they cannot be done.

Arnold Palmer (1929-), American professional golfer

One man's meat is another man's poison.

Lucretius (c. 99-55 BC), Roman poet and philosopher

All things work together for good to them that love God.

The Bible, Romans 8:28

Two men look out through the same bars.
One sees the mud and one the stars.

Frederick Langbridge (1849-1923), English poet and religious writer

She was happier to light a candle than to curse the darkness.
Her light has warmed the earth.

Adlai Stevenson (1900-1965), American politician, on hearing that Eleanor Roosevelt had died, New York Times, 8 November, 1962

I love living.
I have some problems with my life, but living is the best thing they've come up with so far.

Neil Simon (1927), American playwright and screenwriter

43. A Reason to Live

Those who have a 'why' to live can put up with almost any 'how'.

Victor Frankl (1905-1997), Austrian neurologist and psychiatrist

A vision keeps the wealthy soul looking at the path and not at the rocks.

Michael Norwood, Canadian doctor and author

Having a vision for your life lets you live out of hope, rather than out of your fears.

Stedman Graham (1951-), American educator, author, and speaker, better known as a friend and close companion of Oprah Winfrey

If you do not know where you are sailing, no wind is good.

Seneca the Younger (c. 4 BC-65 AD), Epistulae Morales number 71

There is nothing without a reason.

Gottfried Leibniz (1646-1716), German philosopher and mathematician

Fear God and do what he tells you.
This is the whole reason for us being here.

The Bible, Ecclesiastes 12:13

When we find a reason to live,
the way to do it will follow.

Mohandas Gandhi (1869-1948), pacifist & ideological leader of India

If we stand for nothing,
we will fall for anything.

Alex Hamilton (1936-), 'Born Old' in Listener, 9 November, 1978

In all that you do, think about what it is leading to in the end.

Gesta Romanorum number 103, circa 1300 AD

The night comes when no man can work.

Jesus Christ, John 9:4

If you are not part of the answer, you are part of the problem.

Eldridge Cleaver (1935-1998), writer and Black Panther leader

It is the reason for dying, and not the death,
that makes the martyr.

Napoleon Bonaparte (1769-1821), French revolutionary military hero

44. Life and Death

I die because I do not die.

John of the Cross (1542-91), Spanish priest, mystic, and writer

In my end is my beginning.

Mary Stuart (1542-1587), Queen of Scotland 1542-1567, executed for plotting to assassinate Queen Elizabeth I

If I die, I die.

The Bible, Esther 4:16, when going to ask the king to help her people.

If my heart is right, it makes no difference which way my head is turned.

Walter Raleigh (c. 1552-1618), English writer, soldier, and explorer, before being killed with an axe by the French.

You can destroy the container if you will;
but the smell of the flowers will not go away.

Thomas Moore (1779-1852), Irish poet and singer, Irish Melodies, 1807

The more you cut us down
the more we grow in number.
The blood of Christians is the seed of the Church.

Tertullian (c. 160-c. 225), Roman Christian author, Apologeticus ch. 50

And how can one die better, than facing serious danger for the good of his fathers and the temples of his gods?

T. B. Macaulay (1800-1859), English poet, historian, and politician, Lays of Ancient Rome (1842), 'Horatius'

I know that the one who saves me is alive, and that he will stand at the last day on the earth.

The Bible, Job 19:25, after the devil destroyed all that Job owned.

What good does it do a man to win
the whole world,
and then lose his own soul?

Jesus, Mark 8:36

Death breaks into the cabins of the poor as into the castles of kings.

Horace (65-8 BC), Roman lyric poet

When the chess game is over, the King and the pawn go back into the same box.

Italian proverb

The few little years we spend on earth are only the first scene in a play that projects into eternity.

Edwin Markham (1852-1940), American poet

All the earth is a stage, and we are the actors on it.

William Shakespeare (1564-1616), As You Like It act 2, scene 7

They say such nice things about you at funerals, that it makes me sad to think
I'm going to miss mine by just a few days.

Garrison Keillor (1942-), American author, humourist, and radio star

The sole equality on earth is death.

Philip James Bailey (1816-1902), English poet and author

A man's dying
is more the survivors' business than his own.

Thomas Mann (1875-1955), German writer and philanthropist

Saying goodbye doesn't mean anything.
It's the time we were together that matters, not how we left it.

Trey Parker & Matt Stone, South Park creators, Tweek vs. Craig, 1999

The living need love more than the dead.

George Arnold (1834-1865), The Jolly Old Pedagogue (1866),

All people are like grass.
The best we can do is no better than the flowers in the grass.
The grass dies and the flowers fall away when the Spirit of God touches them.

The Bible, Isaiah 40:6

God loved the world enough to give us his Son.
Now anyone who believes him need not die;
they can live forever.

The Bible, John 3:16

Life is short but sweet.

Sophocles (495-406 BC), Greek playwright, Alceste

Learning comes slowly, and life flies quickly.

John Davies (1569-1626), English poet and lawyer, Nosce Teipsum

All that a man has will he give for his life.

The Bible, Job 2:4

Let the dead bury the dead.

Jesus, Matthew 8:22

I am not afraid to die,
but I do not want to be there when it happens.

Woody Allen (1935-), actor, author, jazz musician, Death (1975)

Death is one of the few things that can be done just as easily lying down.

Woody Allen (1935-), actor, author, jazz musician

Life does not stop being funny when people die any more than it stops being serious when people laugh.

George Bernard Shaw (1856-1950), Irish playwright

45. Health

Serious sicknesses are fixed with serious medicines, or they will not be fixed at all.

William Shakespeare (1564-1616), Hamlet act 4, scene 2

One should eat to live, and not live to eat.

Molière (1622-1673), French playwright, L'Avare (1669)

There is a thin man inside every fat man.

George Orwell (1903-1950), Irish playwright,
Coming up for Air (1939), part 1, chapter 3

When the stomach is full,
it is easy to talk of fasting.

Saint Jerome (374-419), Roman Christian priest, in a letter

The need of exercise was invented by people who ate too much and had nothing to think about.

George Santayana (1863-1952), Spanish philosopher and writer

Why do strong arms tire themselves with foolish weight-lifting?

To dig a vineyard is better exercise for men.

Marcus Valerius Martial (c 40 AD - 103 AD), Spanish poet

Early to bed, and early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise.

Benjamin Franklin (1705-1790), inventor, statesman, philosopher

If it tastes good, it's bad for you.

Isaac Asimov (1920-1992), American author and biochemist

Tell me what you eat and I will tell you what you are.

Anthelme Brillat-Savarin (1755-1826), French lawyer, politician & epicure

Cooking is the oldest of the arts, for Adam was born hungry.

Anthelme Brillat-Savarin (1755-1826), French lawyer, politician & epicure

With the bread finished, up breaks the company.

Miguel de Cervantes (1547-1616), Spanish novelist and playwright

Man is what he eats.

Ludwig Feuerbach (1804-1872), German philosopher and anthropologist

46. Self-control

When people will not weed their own minds, they are likely to be overcome with nettles.

Horace Walpole (1717-1797), English art historian and politician

The worst place for a Christian is a comfortable place.

Author unknown

The best way out is always through.

Robert Frost (1874-1963), American poet,
A Servant to Servants (1914)

Say to yourself, 'I used to be angry every day;
then every other day; now only every third or fourth day.' When you reach thirty days, make a gift to the gods to show you are thankful.

Epictetus (55 AD-135 AD), Roman slave who became a philosopher

He who controls his emotions is more than a king.

John Milton (1608-1674), English poet and civil servant

What they learn in pain, they can teach in song.

Percy Bysshe Shelley (1792-1822), English poet

The hard times teach us more than the easy times.

Anonymous

Courage does not always shout.
Sometimes it is a quiet voice at the end of the day saying, "I will try again tomorrow".

Mary Anne Radmacher, American artist who makes cards and posters

I see the better things and agree with them, but I follow the worse.

Ovid (43 BC - c. 17 AD), Roman poet, Metamorphoses book 7

The good that I want to do, I do not do;
but the bad that I do not want to do, I do.

The Bible, Romans 7:19

47. Worry

If you can't sleep, get up and do something.
It's the worry that gets you,
not missing out on sleep.

Dale Carnegie (1888-1955), American self-improvement lecturer

This is the night that makes me or breaks me.

William Shakespeare (1564-1616), Othello act 5, scene 1

When a thing cannot be changed,
I cannot worry about it.

William Shakespeare (1564-1616), Richard II act 2, scene 3

A little water is an ocean to an ant.

Afghan proverb

Worries go down better with soup than without.

Jewish proverb

I'm happy tonight.
I'm not worried about anything.
I'm not fearing any man.

Martin Luther King Jr. (1929-1968), speech in Memphis, April 3, 1968, the day before he was assassinated

48. Leaders and Followers

God said, "Who will I send?"
And, "Who will go for me?"
And I said, "Here am I. Send me."

The Bible, Isaiah 6:8

Son of man, I have made you a watchman to the house of Israel.
So give them warning from me.

The Bible, Ezekiel 3:17

The hour is come, but not the man.

Walter Scott (1771-1832), Scottish poet, lawyer, and novelist
The Heart of Midlothian (1818), chapter 4

He is gone,
but his shadow still stands over all of us.
It still tells us what to do and we, very often, obey.

Svetlana Alliluyeva (1926), daughter of Russian Premier Josef Stalin

I am not afraid of an army of lions led by a sheep.
I am afraid of an army of sheep led by a lion.

Alexander the Great (356-323 BC), King of Macedon

Do not try to fight a lion
if you are not one yourself.

African proverb

The king must be a fox,
to understand the tricks that go with his job;
and a lion, to make the wolves afraid.

Niccolò Machiavelli (1469-1527), Italian writer, historian & philosopher,
The Prince (1513), chapter 18

Whenever death may surprise us, let it be welcome if our battle cry has reached even one open ear and another hand reaches out to take up our arms.

Che Guevara (1928-1967), Argentine revolutionary, doctor, and author

Hundreds can talk, for one who can think,
and thousands can think for one who can see.
To see clearly is music, prophecy and religion,
all in one.

John Ruskin (1819-1900), English art critic and philanthropist

In life you are either a passenger or a pilot... it is your choice.

Author unknown

An expert is just someone who knows some of the worst mistakes that can be made in his subject and is able to not make them.

Werner Heisenberg (1901-1976), German physicist

Do not follow where the path may lead.
Go instead to where there is no path and make one.

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882), American writer and lecturer

When you're a team of one, you're always the leader.

Takayuki Ikkaku, Arisa Hosaka and Toshihiro Kawabata,
Animal Crossing: Wild World, 2005

If you don't run your own life... someone else will.

John Atkinson (details unknown)

Action springs not from thought, but from being ready to take responsibility.

Dietrich Bonhoeffer (1906-1945), German Lutheran theologian who was executed for planning to assassinate Adolf Hitler

The art of leading is in saying no, not yes.
It is very easy to say yes.

Tony Blair (1953-), British Prime Minister from 1997-2007

The key to being a good manager is keeping the people who hate me away from those who are still not sure.

Casey Stengel (1890-1975), American baseball manager

How fast the boss goes is how fast the team goes.

Lee Iacocca (1924-), American businessman

Don't put the cart before the horse.

Author unknown

I'd rather be a hammer than a nail.

Paul Simon (1941-), American singer-songwriter

If you can't take the heat, stay out of the kitchen.

Harry S. Truman (1884-1972), 33rd President of the United States

49. Wise Choices

There is a choice you have to make,
in everything you do.
And you must always keep in mind
the choice you make, makes you.

John Wooden (1910-2010), American basketball player and coach

Right timing is in all things the most important point.

Hesiod (~700 BC), Greek poet, Works and Days

You cannot have your cake and eat it too.

John Heywood (c. 1497-c. 1580), English writer

We know what happens to people who stay in the middle of the road.
They get run down.

Aneurin Bevan (1897-1960), English politician, Observer, 6 Dec., 1953

All you get from riding the fence is a sore middle.

Anonymous

Two roads divided in the yellow forest, and I – I took the one less travelled.
That has made all the difference.

Robert Frost (1874-1963), American poet, The Road Not Taken

To each man and country comes the time to choose.

James Russell Lowell (1819-1891), American poet, critic, and diplomat, The Present Crisis (1845)

We can believe what we choose, but we must also answer for what we choose.

Cardinal Newman (1801-1890), 27 June, 1848, in C.S. Dessain (ed.), Letters and Diaries of John Henry Newman, volume 12 (1962)

I think... and because of this I am.

René Descartes (1596-1650), French philosopher and writer,
Le Discours de la méthode (1637), part 1

A true philosopher is like an elephant;
he never puts the second foot down until the first one is solidly in place.

Fontenelle (1657-1757), French author

What is your job in philosophy?
To show the fly the way out of the fly-bottle.

Ludwig Wittgenstein (1889-1951), Austrian philosopher and Cambridge professor from 1939-1947

50. Little Things

Size isn't everything.

Author unknown

There's nothing wrong with staying small.
You can do big things with a small team.

Jason Fried, co-founder of 37 Signals, a web design company;
keynote speech, SXSW, 2006

Never use a cannon to kill a fly.

Confucius (551 BC- 459 BC), Chinese philosopher

The person who moves a mountain begins by carrying away small stones.

Chinese proverb

A trip of a thousand miles begins with a single step.

Lao Tzu, founder of Taoism (about 500 BC)

Tall trees grow from little seeds.

David Everett (1769-1813),
'Lines Written for a School Declamation' (aged 7)

Little actions that you do are better than big actions that you plan to do.

Peter Marshall (1902-1949), twice chaplain of the U.S. Senate

How we spend our days is how we spend our lives.

Annie Dillard (1945-), Pulitzer Prize winning American author

Every day is a letter from God.

Russian proverb

One should count each day a separate life.

Seneca (5 BC-65 AD), Roman philosopher, statesman, and dramatist

Take time for the little things, for one day you may look back and see that they were the big things.

Robert Brault, American free-lance writer

If you can't do great things, do small things in a great way.

Napolean Hill (1883-1970), one of the first American success writers

Nothing is more simple than to be great.
The truth is that to be simple is to be great.

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882), American writer and lecturer

Life was always made to be simple, but never made to be easy.

Author unknown

Only those who have the patience to do simple things perfectly will get the ability to do difficult things easily.

Johann Schiller (1759-1805), German writer and historian

He that is faithful in that which is least will be faithful also in much.

The Bible, Luke 16:10

Teach yourself to listen to that small voice that tells you what is important and what is not.

Sue Grafton (1940-), American detective story writer

There is little difference in people, but that little difference makes a big difference.
The little difference is attitude.

The big difference is whether it is positive or negative.

Clement Stone, (1902-2002), American businessman & philanthropist

51. Being Different

We may have all come on different ships, but we are in the same boat now.

Martin Luther King Jr. (1929-1968), Baptist minister and leader of the African-American civil rights movement

People can be quite cold to those whose eyes see the world differently.

Eric A. Burns (1947-), American author, broadcast journalist and media critic

We do not judge the people we love.

Jean-Paul Sartre (1905-1980), French writer, philosopher and activist

Go ahead. Fall down.
The world looks different from the ground.

Oprah Winfrey (1954-), African-American talk show host, actress, media proprietor, and philanthropist

It is because we are different that each of us is special.

Brian Dyson, American author and former CEO of Coca-Cola

It doesn't matter if a cat is black or white, as long as it catches mice.

Deng Xiaoping (1904-1997), former leader of the Communist Party of China

52. Beauty

When something doesn't seem to be beautiful,
I ask myself why do I think it's not beautiful, and very shortly I learn that there is no reason.

John Cage (1912-1992), American poet, artist, and music composer

Do not read beauty magazines.
They only make you feel ugly.

Mary Schmich (1953-), American newspaper columnist

The key to finding beauty is to know where to look.

Seigfried and Roy (1939-)(1944-), German-American entertainers

If you build love on good looks,
it will die as quickly as the good looks die.

John Donne (1572-1631), Elegies 'The Anagram' (c. 1595)

No beauty she does miss, when all her robes are on;
But beauty's self she is,
when all her robes are gone.

Francis Davison (ed.), Poetical Rhapsody (1602)

Beautiful actions are better than beautiful bodies.

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882), American writer and lecturer

53. Entertainment and Sports

One day they may tell you you will not go far,
That night you open and there you are.
Next day on your dressing room
They hang a star!
Let's go on with the show!

Irving Berlin (1888-1989), Jewish-American composer and lyricist

I never expected life to do anything special for me, yet I seemed to do more than I had ever hoped for.
Most of the time it just happened.

Audrey Hepburn (1929-1993), American actress and humanitarian

There's no business like show business.

Irving Berlin (1888-1989), Jewish-American composer and lyricist

I had the radio on.

Marilyn Monroe (1926-1962), American actress and sex symbol, when asked if she really had nothing on in her famous calendar photograph

A celebrity is a person who works hard all his life to become well known, and then wears dark glasses to stop people from knowing who he is.

Fred Allen (1894-1956), American comedian

I hate television as much as I hate peanuts;
but I can't stop eating peanuts.

Orson Welles (1915-1985), American actor, screenwriter, film director

Give them bread and circuses.

Juvenal (55-127 AD), Roman poet and satirist, telling how to keep the people from warring against the King

Talk about being good and they pass by in crowds.
Whistle and dance and shake,
and you've got a crowd of listeners.

Diogenes the Cynic (c. 410 BC-323 BC), Greek philosopher

You'd be surprised how much it costs to make me look this cheap!

Dolly Parton (1946-), American country music singer, author, songwriter, multi-instrumentalist, and philanthropist

I grew up with six brothers. That's how I learned to dance - waiting for the toilet.

Bob Hope (1903-2003), American comedian and actor

Never give a party
if you will be the most interesting person there.

Mickey Friedman, details not known

At a dinner party
one should eat wisely but not too well, and talk well but not too wisely.

W. Somerset Maugham (1874-1965), English playwright and novelist

The hardest thing about tennis is that no matter how good I get, I'll never be as good as a wall.

Mitch Hedberg (1968-2005), American comedian

Whoever said, "It's not whether you win or lose that counts," probably lost!

Martina Navratilova (1956-), Czech tennis player

Winning is not everything, but wanting to win is.

Vince Lombardi (1913-1970), American football coach

I never quit trying;
I never felt that I didn't have a chance to win.

Arnold Palmer (1929-)
American pro golfer

Fame is a food that dead men eat.
I have no stomach for such meat.

Henry Austin Dobson

Life is dangerous. You can get hurt.
But people die in plane crashes, lose their arms and legs in car accidents;
people die every day. Same with fighters:
some die, some get hurt, some go on.
You just don't let yourself believe it will happen to you.

Muhammad Ali (1942-), American boxer, philanthropist, and activist

One day the sports coach pointed at four boys, and told us to run in a race.
I said that I was weak and not able to run,
but the coach sent me to the doctor, who said that I was perfectly well.
So I had to run.
When I got started I felt I wanted to win;

but I only came in second.
That was the way it started.

Emil Zatopek, Olympic marathon champion

The fight is won or lost behind the lines, out there on the road,
long before I dance under those lights.

Muhammad Ali (1942-), American boxer, philanthropist, and activist

You miss all of the shots you never take.

Wayne Gretzky (1962-) Canadian ice hockey player and coach

The best defense is a good offense.

Jack Dempsey (1895-1983), American heavyweight boxer

Build up your weaknesses until they become your strong points.

Knute Rockne (1888-1931), American football player and coach

54. The Law and Lawyers

Wise people, though all laws were done away with,
would still lead the same life.

Aristophanes (446-386 BC), Greek comedic playwright

The law is equal for all;
so it stops the rich as well as the poor...
from sleeping under bridges, begging in the streets, and robbing bread.

Anatole France (1844-1924), The Red Lily, 1894, chapter 7

Laws are spider webs through which the big flies pass and the little ones get caught.

Honore de Balzac (1799-1850)

Every law is opposite to liberty.

Jeremy Bentham

Laws are like sausages.
It's better not to see them being made.

Otto von Bismarck (1815-1898)

The great can protect themselves;
but the poor and humble need the arm and shield of the law.

Andrew Jackson (1767-1845), in 1821

The rest day rule was made for man, and not man for the rest day.

Jesus Christ, Mark 2:27

Punishment is not about hitting back, but about changing criminals and making less crime.

Elizabeth Fry (1780-1845), Quaker prison reformer and philanthropist Reason is the life of the law.

No, the law itself is nothing else but reason.

Edward Coke

I've knowingly helped a number of guilty men.
But what they must pay me is punishment enough for anyone.

Lee Bailey, lawyer

A lawyer will do anything to win.
Sometimes he will even tell the truth.

Patrick Murray (1956-), English screen actor

To laugh, to lie, to flatter, to face four ways in court, to win men forgiveness.

Roger Ascham (c. 1515-1568), English scholar and writer

A man between two lawyers is like a fish between two cats.

Benjamin Franklin (1705-1790), inventor, statesman, and philosopher

A lawyer can rob more than a thousand men can with guns.

Mario Puzo (1920-1999), American author and screenwriter

Bad rules are the worst leaders.

Edmund Burke (1729-1797), Irish statesman and philosopher
in a speech at Bristol, prior to the Late Election (1780)

Rules were made to be broken.

Christopher North (John Wilson), (1785-1854), Blackwood's Magazine
(April, 1829), 'Noctes Ambrosianae' number 49

55. Freedom

Oh Freedom,
what liberties are taken in your name!

Daniel George (details unknown)

Stone walls do not a prison make,
and metal bars do not make a cage.

Richard Lovelace (1618-1658), English poet, To Althea, from Prison

As we are liberated from our own fears, we liberate others.

Nelson Mandela (1918-), former President of South Africa

No one can be perfectly free
if all are not free.
No one can be perfectly good if all are not good.
No one can be perfectly happy
if all are not happy.

Herbert Spencer (1820-1903), English biologist and political theorist, Social Statics (1850), part 4, chapter 30

Over time, and across the Earth, freedom will find a way.

George W. Bush (1946-), 43rd President of the United States speech to UN General Assembly, September 21, 2004

The history of free men is never really written by chance, but by choice; their choice!

Dwight Eisenhower (1890-1969), army general & 34th U.S. President

I disagree with what you say, but I will fight to the death to protect your right to say it.

Voltaire (1694-1778), French writer, historian, philosopher

We think birds in cages are singing, but the truth is that they are crying.

John Webster (c. 1580-c. 1625), English dramatist

The White Devil (1612), act 5, scene 4

Liberty is always business that is not finished.

Title of annual report of the American Civil Liberties Union, 1956

All human beings are born free and equal.

Universal Declaration of Human Rights

They are slaves who fear to speak for the weak.

James Russell Lowell (1819-1891), American poet, critic, and diplomat

Slavery is against the laws of God and the rights of men.

David Hartley (1753-1757) English philosopher, and founder of the associationist school of psychology

56. Animals

The more one gets to know of people, the more one likes dogs.

A. Toussenel (1803-1885), French writer, L'Esprit des bêtes (1847)

From troubles of the world, I turn to ducks.
Beautiful laughable things.

F. W. Harvey (1888-1957), English poet

A cat will look down on a man.
A dog will look up to a man.
But a pig will look you straight in the eye and see his equal.

Winston Churchill (1874-1965), former British Prime Minister

A dog is for life, and not just for Christmas.

National Canine Defence League

Good people think about the feelings of their animals.

The Bible, Proverbs 12:10

57. Music and Art

My music is best understood by children and animals.

Igor Stravinsky (1882-1971), Russian composer, Observer, 8 Oct. 1961

Music, the greatest good that humans know,
And all of heaven we have below.

Joseph Addison (1672-1719), English writer and politician

Whether I was in my body or out of my body as I wrote it, I know not. God knows.

George Frederick Handel, of the 'Hallelujah Chorus' in his Messiah

Music is feeling, not sound.

William Stevens (1879-1955), American poet,
Peter Quince at the Clavier (1923), part 1

Why should the devil have all the good music?

Rowland Hill (1744-1833), English preacher

I dream my painting and then paint my dream.

Vincent Van Gogh (1853-1890), Dutch painter

Art is a jealous mistress.

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882), American writer and lecturer

As the body cries for food, the hair cries for flowers.

Author unknown

Better the rudest work that tells a story or records a truth, than the richest without meaning.

John Ruskin (1819-1900), English art critic and philanthropist

It is interesting, but is it art?

Rudyard Kipling (1865-1936), English writer,
The Conundrum of the Workshop, 1892

Artists can colour the sky red, but those of us who aren't artists must colour things the way they really are or people might think we're stupid.

Jules Feiffer (1929-), American syndicated cartoonist

The artist is not a different kind of person;

every person is a different kind of artist.

Eric Gill (1882-1940), British sculptor

Every artist puts his brush in his own soul, and paints his own nature into his pictures.

Henry Ward Beecher (1813-1887), American preacher and abolitionist

Dance is a rhyme,
of which each movement is a word.

Mata Hari (1876-1917), Dutch exotic dancer

A dance is measured walking, as a rhyme is measured talking.

Author unknown

58. Travel

A trip is best measured in friends, rather than miles.

Tim Cahill, travel expert

A good traveller has no plans that he cannot change and is not deeply interested in arriving.

Lao Tzu, founder of Taoism (about 500 BC)

When you travel, remember that a foreign country is not there to make you comfortable.
It is there to make its own people comfortable.

Clifton Fadiman (1904-1999), American author and media personality

There is always something new out of Africa.

Pliny the Elder (23-79 AD), Roman author, Natural History

A traveller without observation is a bird without wings.

Moslih Eddin Saadi (1184-c. 1283), Persian poet

The French complain of everything, and always.

Napoleon Bonaparte (1769-1821), French revolutionary military hero

A Boston man is the east wind made flesh.

Thomas Gold Appleton (1812-1884), American writer and artist

When you're travelling,
you are what you are right there and then.
People don't have your past to hold against you.
No yesterdays on the road.

William Least Heat Moon (1939-), American travel writer
of part Osage Nation origin

The world is a book;
those who do not travel read only one page.

St Augustine of Hippo (354-430), Roman philosopher and theologian

No one knows how beautiful it is to travel until he comes home and rests his head on his own pillow.

Lin Yutang (1895-1976)
Chinese writer and inventor

Travel is a part of learning.

Francis Bacon (1561-1626), English lawyer & statesman, Of Travel

I do not travel to get to a place.
I travel to travel.
The important thing is to move.

Robert Louis Stevenson (1850-1894), Scottish novelist and writer, Travels with a Donkey (1879), 'Cheylard and Luc'

59. Change

Progress is impossible without change, and those who cannot change their minds cannot change anything.

George Bernard Shaw (1856-1950), Irish playwright

The key to why things change is the key to everything.

James Burke (1936-), British author, TV producer, and historian

A new broom sweeps clean.

Irish proverb

Nothing carries more power to change than little acts of human kindness.

Jamie Winship, American missionary and writer

Vision without action is just a dream.
Action without vision just passes the time.
Vision with action can change the world.

Joel A. Barker, American public speaker and video maker

In this world nothing can be said to be sure, apart from death and taxes.

Benjamin Franklin (1705-1790), inventor, statesman, philosopher

At twenty a man is full of fight and hope.
He wants to change the world.
When he is seventy he still wants to change the world, but he knows he can't.

Clarence Darrow (1857-1938), American lawyer

Can the leopard change its spots?

The Bible, Jeremiah 13:23

We all want to change others;
but who wants to change himself?

Leo Tolstoy (1828-1910), Russian writer and Christian anarchist

Change your thoughts and change your world.

Norman Vincent Peale (1898-1993), American minister and author

To change your thinking, and follow one who shows new truth, makes you no less free than you were before hearing the new truth.

Marcus Aurelius Antoninus (121-180 AD), Roman emperor from 161 AD
Meditations book 8, section 6

Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

Jesus, Matthew 3:2

If you put new wine into old wineskins,

the skins will explode.
You must put new wine into new wineskins.

Jesus, Matthew 9:17

Nothing is more dangerous than a plan, when you do not have a second one.

Alain (Emile-Auguste Chartier), (1868-1951), French philosopher , journalist and pacifist, Propos Sur la Religion (1938), number 74

The bamboo survives
by bending with the wind.

Bruce Lee (1940-1973), Chinese actor, director and martial artist

Sometimes in the winds of change we find our true direction.

Author unknown

60. Computers and other Inventions

The question of whether a computer can think is no more interesting than the question of whether a submarine can swim.

E. W. Dijkstra (1930-2002), Dutch computer scientist

There is not a flower or bird to be seen, only a small window on which lines are moving,
while the child sits without moving,
pushing at the keyboard with one finger.
No smells or tastes, no wind or bird song.

John Davy, on arguments against teaching through computers

The danger from computers is not that they will one day get as smart as men, but that we will one day agree to meet them halfway.

Bernard Avishai (1949-), Israeli writer and business consultant

You can use the best computers to gather the numbers, but in the end you have to set a time and act.

Lee Iacocca (1924-), American businessman

The computer can't tell you the emotional story.
It can give you the right numbers,
but what's missing is the eyebrows.

Frank Zappa (1940-1993), American composer, singer, film director

I shall make electricity so cheap that only the rich will have enough money to burn candles.

Thomas Edison (1847-1931), inventor and scientist

In all big companies, there is a fear that someone, somewhere is having fun with a computer on company time.

John C. Dvorak (1952-), American columnist and broadcaster

On the Internet, nobody knows you're a dog.

Peter Steiner, cartoonist, The New Yorker, July 5, 1993

Ours is the age that is proud of machines that think, and afraid of men who try to.

H. Mumford Jones (1892-1980), American writer, literary critic, and professor of English at Harvard University

I find television very good for learning things.
Every time someone turns it on
I go into another room and read a good book.

Groucho Marx (1890-1977), American comedian and film star

There is no need for any one person to have a computer in their home.

Ken Olson (1926-2011), American engineer, and co-founder of Digital Equipment Corp.

I think there is a world market for maybe five computers.

Thomas Watson (1874-1956), chairman of IBM, 1943

Heavier-than-air flying machines are impossible.

William Thomson (1824-1907), British mathematician and physicist

Men travel faster now, but I do not know if they go to better things.

Willa Cather (1843-1947), American novelist who wrote of frontier life

It takes hundreds of nuts to hold a car together, but it takes only one of them to destroy it on the highway.

Evan Esar (1899-195), American humourist, Esar's Comic dictionary

61. Humility

Being perfect is reached, not when there is nothing left to add,
but when there is nothing left to take away.

Antoine de St. Exupery (1900-1944), French writer and aviator

If you have put your foot in your mouth, it is probably not the time to try to dance.

R.M. Lynch (details unknown)

If I only had a little humility, I'd be perfect.

Ted Turner (1938-), American media mogul and philanthropist

He that lifts himself up will be put down, and he that humbles himself will be lifted up.

Jesus, Luke 14:11

The only true wisdom is knowing that you know nothing.

Socrates (469-399 BC), Greek philosopher

Anger makes many problems for you.
Pride stops you from fixing them.

Anonymous

A proud spirit goes before a fall.

The Bible, Proverbs 16:18

I know nothing
but that I know nothing.

Socrates (469-399 BC), Greek philosopher,
in Diogenes' Lives of the Philosophers, book 2

It is difficult to find a person who can weigh the weaknesses of others without putting his finger on the scales.

Byron J. Langenfeld, details unknown

You will not grow at all if you think you know it all.

Anonymous

If you help others, forget it.
If others help you, remember it.

Chilon (c. 6th Century BC), one of the seven sages of Greece

62. Leftovers

History repeats itself.

Author unknown

A place for everything, and everything in its place.

Mrs. Beeton (1836-1865), Book of Household Management (1861)

What is the town if not the people?

William Shakespeare (1564-1616), Coriolanus act 3, scene 3

The world is made of stories, not atoms.

Muriel Rukeyser (1913-1980), American poet and political activist

Let us keep Christmas still a shining thing.
Let us hold close one special day.
Let us get back our childlike faith again.

Grace Noll Crowell (1877-1969), American poet

They bite the hand that feeds them.

Edmund Burke (1729-1797), Irish statesman and philosopher

Don't be too sweet, or they will eat you up.
Don't be too bitter or they will vomit you out.

Jewish proverb

Three o'clock is always too late or too early for anything you want to do.

Jean-Paul Sartre (1905-1980), French writer, philosopher and activist, Nausea (1938)

If you go shopping when hungry, you are likely to buy things that you do not need.

American Heart Association Cookbook

How different, how very different from the home life of our own loved Queen!

comment overheard at a performance of Cleopatra by Sarah Bernhardt, 1924

This is quite a three-pipe problem.

Arthur Conan Doyle (1859-1930), Sherlock Holmes

Why should you mind being wrong if someone can show you that you are?

A. J. Ayer (1910-1989), British philosopher

Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

The Bible, Romans 12:21

Someone, somewhere, wants a letter from you.

slogan for the British Post Office

Maybe, just maybe.

slogan for the British National Lottery

If you want to get ahead, get a hat.

slogan for The Hat Council

A quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog.

line with all the letters of the alphabet in it

The last enemy that will be destroyed is death.

The Bible, 1 Corinthians 15:26

All is well that ends well.

William Shakespeare (1564-1616), English playwright

NOTE: With some words we have only listed the meaning for a special way that the word has been used in this book.

above See "world above".

account See "turn to good account".

across See "come across".

actor (n) entertainer who does the actions and says the words of a person in a story.

affect (v) (uh...) change.

against See "hold something against someone".

age See "old age".

alert (adj) (uh...) listening and looking well.

along (prep; adv) on; beside; with. See "get along".

ant (n) small insect.

arm of the law (n) police.

armed (adj) carrying weapons.

ashes (n) powder that is left after a thing burns.

attitude (n) what you think and feel about life, a person or a thing. a positive attitude available (adj) (uh...uh-bul) that can be used.

away See "far and away", "throw away", and "turn away".

baby See "have a baby".

bad for you (adj) not healthy.

barn (n) farm building for holding cows, or food for cows.

bastard (n) (...erd) one whose parents were not married; angry name for someone.

become (v) make look good. That dress becomes you.

begin (v) (bee...) start.

behind the lines (adv) where others do not see the action.

being (n) (bee...) animal, person or living spirit.

believer (n) (bee-leev...) one who believes, often in God.

belong (v) be right for. This belongs in the car.

below See "world below".

big (adj) good. It was big of him to help that old woman.

birth (n) time when a thing started or was first made.

The birth of a country.

bitter (adj) angry over time; with a sharp sour taste.

blame (v; n) say who is the reason for a bad thing; reason for a bad thing.

blessing (n) good thing one has, often from God.

blind See "colour-blind".

blow it (v) fail to do what one was trying to do. I hope I don't blow it this time.

blow one's own horn (v) talk about how good you are.

in the same boat (adv) faced with the same problems.

bomb (n; v) (bahm) exploding weapon; drop bombs on.

bottom line (n) most important thing. The bottom line is that we have one day to decide.

brain (n) being smart. A young person with a brain. See "knock one's brains out".

brave (adj) not easily afraid.

bridge (n) (brij) road or path over a river or other open place.

bubble (n) soft air-filled ball, often made of soap and water.

business (biz-ness) See "show business".

busy (adj) (biz-ee) working hard at a thing.

buy friends (v) give money and other things to people so they will be your friends.

Cain (n) son of Adam and Eve, who killed his brother.

called (v) (caw/d) named.

cannon (n) big gun that sits on the ground.

care (v; n) protect; worry; love.

cart (n) strong vehicle that is pulled, often by a horse.

castle (n) (cas-ul) very strong, safe house.

cause (n) (cawz) what makes a thing happen. Greed is the cause of most problems.

celebrity (n) (sell...tee) person that very many people know.

century (n) (sen-cher-ee) 100 years.

chance (n) (chants) way things happen without planning; good time to do a thing. See "take a chance".

cheap person (n) one who does not follow rules about being good.

cheek (n) side of the face.

choice (n) what one chooses.

cigarette (n) thin cylinder of tobacco with paper around it.

circus (n) (ser...) traveling entertainment, often with animals.

clap (v) hit your hands together, often to show that you like what an entertainer was doing.

clay (n) wet ground that holds together well in a shape.

closed mind (n) thinking that is not open to new ideas.

club (n) group.

coach (n) teacher in a sport.

come across (v) find, often by accident.

company time (n) time when one should be working for the company.

complain (v) (cum...) say what you do not like.

cottons (n) cool summer clothes, made from cotton.

counterfeit (n) (...fit) false thing made to look like the real thing. counterfeit money couple (n; adj) (cup-ul) two who like each other; two.

courage (n) (cur-ij) being confident and not afraid of danger.

crack (n; v) small break in a thing, that does not come apart; make a small break.

cracked (adj) crazy.

crash (n) serious accident with a vehicle. a car crash

credit (n) trust and honour.

crime (n) serious breaking of a rule. Torture is a crime.

criminal (n) one who does a crime. criminals in prison

cripple (v) make not able to work well. The storm crippled the town.

criticise (v) (...size) say what is wrong about a person or thing.

cross (n) most difficult thing that one must do or go through.

crowd See "follow the crowd".

crowded (adj) with many people or things in a small space.

cry over (v) cry about. Don't cry over such a little thing.

cry for, cry out for (v) beg for.

cult (n) small new group that many people do not like.

curse (n; v) very bad thing that happens, often from God or the devil; use power from God or the devil to hurt a person.

the dead (n) those who are dead. pray for the dead

deadly (adj) serious. a deadly medicine

debt (n) (def) money one owes. in debt owing money.

defense (n) (dee-fents) argument or action to protect.

desert (v) (dee-zerf) leave another without helping them.

desire (v; n) (dee-zire) want; thing one wants.

destruction (n) (...shun) being destroyed.

divide (v) break into two or more parts. I divided the money.

dog (n) person who is ugly or not liked by many people.

down See "get one down".

dozen (n) (duz-in) twelve people or things; 12. a dozen eggs dream (n; v) important but difficult thing one wants or hopes for in the future; hope for.

dreamer (n) one who dreams.

dress suit (n) clothes one wears for doing business or for important meetings, drive (v) force movement, often by scaring. Dogs are often used to drive sheep.

drunk (adj; v) not able to think well from drinking too much alcohol; was drinking. She had drunk too much.

during (prep) (dyoor...) through a time. I ate during the day.

dwarf (n) very short person.

ear See "give ear" and "open ear".

east wind (n) very cold wind.

egg See "good egg".

either (adv) (ee...) choosing one or the other of two things. Either be quiet or leave.

else (adv) (eltz) more (Anything else?); if not. Pay it or else they will take you to court.

embarrassed (adj) (...bare-est) feeling shy from doing a thing wrongly.

end of one's rope (n) place where there is nothing more that you can do to stop a bad thing from happening.

enough (adj) (ee-nuff) all that is needed.

emotional (adj) (ee-moh-shun-ul) with, or about, emotions. an emotional sermon entertainer (n) one who sings, tells jokes, acts, or does other things for people to watch.

equality (n) (ee-kwahl-ih-tee) being the same for all.

especially (adv) (...peh-shul-ee) more than others. I want to especially thank my Dad.

eternal (adj) (ee...) for all time.

experience (n) (...peer-ee-ents) how you feel when a thing happens to you; smartness that come from things that happen to you. a worker with ten years of experience expert (n) person who knows very much about one thing.

eye (v) look at. See "one-eyed" and "look one in the eye".

eye of a needle (n) the little hole on a needle that the thread goes through.

eyebrow (n) line of hair above the eye.

face (v) look at or think about. face a truth See "two-faced".

face a thing squarely (v) look closely at a truth that is not easy to think about.

fall down (v) make a mistake.

fall for (v) be tricked.

fame (n) having many people know about you or it.

famine (n) (...in) time when a country has very little food.

far and away (adv) very clearly.

far and away the best book fast (v) go without eating.

fence See "ride the fence".

field (n) (feild) piece of flat, open land. a field of wheat find out (v) learn the truth about.

find out what is happening finger on the scales (n) secret way to make a thing look bigger or stronger than it is.

finish up doing (v) do in the end.

on fire (adj) enthusiastic.

flake (n) small flat piece.

snow flakes (above)

flatter (v) say too many good things about a person to that person. Don't flatter yourself.

flesh (n) skin and muscles; our physical needs and emotions. See "made flesh".

follow the crowd (v) do what most others are doing.

follow a pattern (v) act or go in the same way.

fool (n; v) one who is not smart or wise; foolish person; trick someone.

foot See "put one's foot in one's mouth".

football (n) (fuut-bawl) sport where teams kick a ball around a field, played to different rules in different countries.

forest (n) many trees growing together over much land.

forsake (v) leave or give away (a person or thing).

freedom (n) (...dum) not having things or rules to hold or stop you. freedom from hunger

French (n; adj) people from France; language of people from France; of or from France. French bread friend See "buy friends".

fruit (n) action or effect coming from what one thinks or does. Wealth is often the fruit many years of hard work.

Galileo (n) man who first learned that the earth goes around the sun.

gardener (n) (gard-ner) one who works in a garden.

gather (v) bring together. Gather the children for a story.

get along (v) like each other.

get back [a thing] (v) get a thing again, that you had in the past.

get by (v) live or go through a thing, but not well. We are just getting by at the moment.

get one down (v) make one feel sad. All your complaining is getting me down.

get to be or do (v) have the chance to be or do. The children get to eat first.

give ear (v) listen.

give someone rope (v) not argue with someone when they are doing something wrong) give up (v) stop trying.

giver (n) one who gives.

global (adj) for all of the world. a global chain of restaurants go See "let go".

go far (v) do well in a job, or in life. That woman will go far.

go off (v) explode. He is like a bomb that is ready to go off.

good egg (n) nice person.

gospels (n) four books of the Bible that tell the life and teachings of Jesus.

a good thing (n) something that one likes.

grandparents (n) grandfathers and grandmothers.

guard (n; v) (gard) one who protects or watches a person or thing; protect or watch a person or thing. guard a box of diamonds guilty (adj) (gil-tee) bad or wrong. I feel guilty about it.

gun See "hand gun".

guy (n) person, often a male.

habit (n) thing one often does, that is difficult to stop doing. Smoking is a bad habit.

halfway (adv) (haf...) in the middle of a distance between two points. See "meet halfway".

hand (n) one's actions or physical help. Can you give me a hand? See "shake hands".

hand gun (n) small gun that you can hold in one hand.

handle (v) (of animals) work with and control.

hang on (v) not stop trying. Just hang on until I get there.

hard times (n) times when we go through difficult things.

hardly (adv) (...lee) almost not true or not happening. We hardly ate anything all day.

have a baby (v) give birth to a baby after it is finished growing inside of you. She is going to have a baby soon.

healer (n) one who heals.

health (n) how well or sick one is. Her health is not good.

heart (n) one's emotions; one's love. I give you my heart. See "rich heart".

with all one's heart (adv) with all one's strength or love.

hell See "through hell".

Hercules (n) (...cyoo-leez) Greek god of strength.

write/make history (v) do something important enough that people will remember it for many years.

hit back (v) give to another a hurt that they gave to you.

hold back (v) stop from doing what one wants to do. He tried to hold back from crying.

hold close (v) hug or love. I will hold close our time together.

hold onto (v) not stop doing or using. hold onto thought hold something against one (v) have something that you use to say a person is bad. She still holds it against me that I forgot her birthday.

holy (adj) (hoe-lee) special for God. a holy day honour (n; v) (ahn-er) action that shows a person is very good or important (It is an honour to be your president.); do something to show that you think a person is very good or important. We honoured him with a song in his name.

horn See "blow one's horn" hour (n) (owr) right time. The hour has come for us to act.

hourglass (n) (owr...) instrument that measures time by how long it takes sand to fall through a small hole. (See picture on page 111.)

one's house (n) one's family.

human (n) (hyoo-min) person. Are humans really smarter than other animals.

humility (n) (hyoo...tee) being humble.

hurry (v) (...ee) try to do a thing quickly.

hypocrisy (n) (hip-ok-ris-ee) not acting as you tell others to act.

icy (adj) (ise-ee) like or with ice.
She fell into the icy water.

idea (n) (ie-dee-uh) important new truth (What a good idea!); way someone understands a thing. his idea of having fun

information (n) (...may-shun) pieces of knowledge. information on local shops inner (adj) on the inside. the inner circle on a target innocent (adj) (...uh-sent) not bad or wrong.

instead (adv) (...sted) in the place of. She asked for fruit instead of lollies.

integrity (n) (...tee) telling the truth at all times.

Internet

invent (v) make a new thing that was never made before.
Did Galileo invent the telescope?

Jack (n) boy's name.

Jill (n) girl's name.

just (adv; adj) with no more (just this once); very (It was just right.); equal for all. a just government.

key (n) thing that makes possible what you want. Education is the key to success.

keyboard (n) (kee-board) line or lines of buttons on a computer, piano, or other instrument.

kill time (v) use time to do things that are not important, often so that the time will seem to go more quickly.

kind (adj; n) (kinde) showing love; group (two kinds of people); almost. kind of big knock one's brains out (v) hurt one badly, as in a fight.

knot (n) (not) tied part in a rope or string.

knowingly (adv) (noh...lee) understanding what you are doing when you are doing it.

knowledge (n) (nah-lej) what one knows.

labour (v; n) (lay-ber) work;
working. hard labour

Lamb of God (n) one who dies for the sins of others.

lantern (n) lamp with glass on the sides.

last (v) stay or be for a time. It will last an hour.

laughable (adj) (laff-uh-bul) funny enough to make people laugh, often used to say a thing is bad.

law See "arm of the law".

lawyer (n) one who studies the rules of a country, and often argues about them in court.

lay (v) put down (on) (lay it on the ground); (of a bird) give birth to. lay an egg lay waste (v) destroy.

lead a good life (v) live a good life.

lean on another person (v) trust that other person to help you do things that you cannot or will not do for yourself.

leftovers (n) what you have after the biggest and best parts have been used.

lemon (n) sour yellow fruit; car or other thing that breaks easily and often.

lemonade (n) cold drink made from lemons and sugar.

lend (v) give a thing to another person to use for a time, before they must return it.

let go (v) stop holding.

level (n) measure of how high or low a thing is. We will move to the next level now.

liberate (v) make free.

liberty (n) (...tee) freedom.

lie (n) saying that is not true. See "white lies".

life See "lead a good life", "lose your life" and "run your life".

for life (adv) for as long as one is alive. be her friend for life light See "travel light".

likely (adv) easily happening, being, or being true. It's likely that she will be late again.

limo (n) (...oh) long, expensive car that people often use for special happenings.

live See "make a living" and "owe one a living".

locally (adv) (loke-ul-ee) just for one town or another place where you live. shop locally look one in the eye (v) be very honest with one.

look up to (v) trust and love. She looks up to her father.

look down on (v) feel one is better than. Some bosses look down on their workers.

lose your life (v) die.

lose yourself (v) become so interested in one thing that you forget about all other things.

line See "behind the lines" and "bottom line".

lucky (adj) (...ee) with good things happening to you without any clear reason.

made flesh (v) changed into a person. God was made flesh in Jesus.

made for one (v) especially good for or helping that one. That hat's just made for me.

make a living (v) work for money. It's hard to make a living as an artist.

make a point (v) teach a lesson. I walked out to make a point.

maker (n) one who makes a thing.

man (n) all humans. Man is destroying the planet.

manager (n) (...uh-jer) leader, often in a company.

market (n) number of buyers who want a thing. There is little market for ice in Canada.

marriage (n) (mair-ij) wedding; life together between two married people.

marry (v) (mair-ee) join with another person to become husband and wife.

martyr (n) (...ter) one who dies for what they believe in.

master (n) teacher or boss.

matter (v) be important to one. It won't matter if she's late.

mean (v) how one wants others to understand a thing.

measure (n) (meh-zhure) number or other thing that tells how good or big a thing is. The measure of a good meal is how much of it people eat.

meet halfway (v) agree for both sides to change some toward what the other wants.

mercy (n) (...see) forgiveness.

Methuselah (n) (meh-thoo...) oldest man in the Bible.

middle of the road (n) place where one does not choose between two different sides.

midwinter (n) coldest part of winter.

mind (n) (minde) one's thoughts. I will speak my mind on that. See "open mind" and "closed mind".

in one's mind (adv) in one's thinking. Keep in mind what I said.

minority (n) (my...tee) group that is less than half of a bigger group. Women are in the minority in our family.

miracle (n) (meer-ik-ul) thing that is not possible without help from God.

miss (v) not see (Hurry or we will miss the show.); not hit where you were aiming; feel sad about not seeing. I miss my friends.

miss out on (v) not have or do. If you leave now you will miss out on the last dance.

mistake (n) wrong thing that a person does by accident.

misunderstood (v) was understanding wrongly.

moan (n; v) long deep sound of pain; make this sound.

mostly (adv) (mohst-lee) for the most part. mostly women mount (v; n) climb up on (mount a horse); mountain; horse.

move yourself (v) put what you believe into action.

move mountains (v) do great things. We don't expect you to move mountains.

mouth See "put one's foot in one's mouth"

nail (n) little metal stick that you hammer into timber.

naturally (adv) (...cher-ul-ee) happening without people forcing it to happen.

nature (n) (na-y-cher) spirit of a person; God; the world God made.

nearly (adv) (...lee) almost.

neck See "stick one's neck out".

necking (n) kissing, touching, and hugging between a male and a female.

need (n) thing one needs.

needle See "eye of a needle".

negative (adj) (...uh-tiv) looking at the worst side of a thing; word that says no or not.

nettle (n) (...ul) plant with many small sharp hairs on it.

news (n) (nooz) information about interesting things that happened in the near past.

ninety (adj; n) (...tee) 90.

now and then (adv) at a few different times.

a number of (adj) some. A number of people looked on.

nut (n) crazy person.

observation (n) (...zer-yah-shun) what one sees; what one thinks about what they see.

offense, offense (n) (uf-ents, ...ents) belief that one is trying to hurt you (take offense at what was said); breaking of a rule; action or team to hurt another. go on the offense office (n) (...is) room where a person works at a desk.

old age (n) time when a person is old.

one-eyed (adj) able to see only one way of thinking.

only (conj) (ohn-lee) but. We would like to, only we can't.

open ear (n) listening well to what is being said. keep an open ear for important news

open mind (n) thinking that is open to new ideas.

opera (n) (...uh) story on a stage, with actors singing their lines.

opposition (n) (...zish-un) being against (opposition to slavery); ones who are against. face the opposition overcome (v) (...cum) win against.

overlook (v) not see; forgive.

owe one a living (v) owe one enough to pay for all that they ever need. Parents do not owe their children a living.

parallel (adj) (pair-uh...) being the same but in different places or ways; being the same distance apart at all points. parallel lines parrot (n) brightly coloured bird that can learn to say words.

park (v) (of a car) put it in a place to sit for a time.

pass (v) go (pass over); spend (pass time); give to another. pass the ball patience (n) (pay-shents) ability to wait and work for a long time before getting what you want.

patient (adj) (pay-shent) able to wait a long time for what one wants.

path (n) way where people or animals often walk.

pattern See "follow a pattern".

pawn (n) small piece in chess.

pearl (n) important truth. a pearl of wisdom

penis (n) (pee...) male organ for mating.

perfume (n) (...fyoom) liquid with a beautiful smell.

perish (v) (pair...) die forever.

philosopher (n) (fill...uh-fer) one who thinks much, trying to find the great truths about life.

philosophy (n) (fil...uh-fee) what one thinks about important truths.

pickpocket (n) one who robs you by secretly taking things from your pockets.

piece See "thirty pieces of silver".

pig (n) one who has no love for truth. Don't give your pearls to pigs.

Pilate (n) (pie-let) man who helped to have Jesus killed.

pile (n) much money. You can make a pile with this idea.

pipe (n) tool one smokes tobacco in.

Plato (n) (plate-oh) Greek philosopher.

please (v) (pleez) make one feel happy.

point (n) lesson or sharp truth. See "make a point".

strong point (n) thing that one is very good at.

poison (n) (...zun) chemical that can kill or make one sick.

political (adj) about leading groups or countries.

politician (n) (...fish-un) one who tries to win votes to become a government leader.

pool (n) small body of liquid, often that one can swim in.

positive (adj) (...tiv) looking at the best side of things.

potter (n) one who shapes things from clay.

the poor (n) people who are poor. Please help the poor.

prepare (v) (pree-pair) do things before time so things will go well when the time comes. prepare for a big storm present (n) (prez...) now; thing one gives to show love.

prince (n) (prints) male in the family of a king or queen.

print See "small print"

probably (adv) (...uh-blee) more likely to happen than not.

progress (n) movement ahead.

proof (n) information that shows strongly that a thing is true.

propaganda (n) (...uh-gan-duh) words to sell an idea, often used in a negative way. It's just government propaganda.

prophecy (n) (prof-eh-see) words from God.

prosper (v) succeed in what you try to do.

pump (v) move a thing by hand up and down many times.

push one down (v) criticise in a negative way.

put one's foot in one's mouth (v) say a thing that is wrong or stupid, with others listening to you when you say it.

quitter (n) one who quits.

quotation (n) saying that one repeats word for word.

quote (n; v) saying that one repeats word for word; repeat a saying word for word.

rat race (n) all the people who are competing for jobs and money.

rather (v) want more than another thing. I would rather eat fish than eat lamb.

ready (adj) (red-ee) prepared.

reasoning (n) (reez-un...) thinking.

record (v) (ree...) write down or save to see again later.

relative (n) (...uh-tive) person in one's family.

relax (v) become loose; rest rent (v) pay to use for a while.

repeat (v) (ree...) do again.

repent (v) be sorry for sinning.

rescue (v) (...cyoo) help one away from a big danger.

responsibility (n) (ree...tee) job; being the one to blame if things go wrong. take responsibility for one's animals revolution (n) (...oh-joq-shun) war against the leaders by the followers.

reward (n; v) (ree-word) award, often money (a reward for catching the robber); give an award for a good action. She rewarded him with a kiss.

the rich (n) all who are rich.

rich heart (n) being generous.

ride the fence (v) try not to take one side over another.

right (n) (rite) power that no one should take from you. We all should have a right to life.

right here/right there (adv) perfectly in this or that place. Put the boxes right here.

ring (v) (of a bell) hit it to make a sound.

rise (v) (rize) get up out of bed (in the morning). I never rise before noon.

road See "middle of the road".

on the road (adv) travelling. I'll be on the road all year.

roll (v) move in circles over and over. roll a wheel

root (n) reason from which other effects come. This boy is the root of the problem.

rope See "end of one's rope", and "give someone rope".

rotten (adj) being destroyed from being too old, often with a bad smell. rotten eggs rough (adj) simple and poor.

rubbish (n) things that people do not want.

rude work (n) work that is rough and far from perfect.

run your life (v) control your own choices and actions.

run (v) make a tool or other thing work, often by using a motor. run an electric drill rust (n; v) red powder from air and water destroying it; become old, so that it cannot work well.

saint (n) very good Christian.
on sale (adj) for people to buy, often at a lower price. Socks are on sale here today.
scales (n) machine for weighing things. See "finger on the scales".
scum (n) dirt or other material that is not needed, on top of a liquid; very bad or worst person or people. They are the scum of the earth.

scissors (n) (siz-ers) tool for cutting paper or cloth.
the secret to doing a thing (n) the best way to do a thing.
security (n) (...cyoor-ih-tee) feeling that you are safe.
self (n) who a person is, in the thinking of that person.
sermon (n) (...mun) talk about what God wants people to do, often to people in a church.
set (v) go down (The sun has set.); choose. set a time seventy (adj) (...tee) 70.
shadow (n) (...oh) dark shape from a thing stopping light. My shadow moves with me.

shake hands (v) squeeze another person's hand, to show that you are friends.
shallow person (n) one who does not think deeply about important truths.
shape (v) build or make. God shaped us with his hands.
share (v) give parts to different people. share a cake
sharp tongue (n) way of saying truth, that hurts others.
shepherd (n) person who cares for sheep.
shield (n) (sheeld) strong flat piece one can hide behind to be protected from a weapon.
shine (v) give off light.
shot (v; n) was shooting; act of trying to hit a target. take a shot at the basket shortly (adv) (...lee) soon.
show business (n) entertainment.
show your teeth (v) show that you are angry.
silver See "thirty pieces of silver".
simple (adj) (...ul) easy to understand.
sincerely (adv) (...lee) in truth.
single (adj) (...ul) not married.
sink (v) drop down under. sink in water

sixth (adj) coming next after five others.

slavery (n) (slave-er-ee) buying, selling, and owning slaves.

slow down (v) go more slowly.
Slow down for bends in the road.

be small (v) be a bad person.

small print (n) parts of an agreement that can change the agreement in important ways, often printed in very small letters, so people will not read them.

so-called (adj) having a name that is false.

sole (adj) only.

sorry (adj) (...ee) sad about having done a bad thing.

soul (n) (sole) person (Not a soul is left.); life; part of a person that lives on after death.

sparrow (n) (spair-oh) small bird.

spit (v) force liquid from the mouth.

spoken (v; adj) had been speaking; that was said out loud.
the spoken word

spot (n) small mark, often round.

spring (v; n) come up quickly (spring out of bed); time in the year before summer.

spring from (v) comes from.

squarely See "face a thing squarely".

stab (v) force a sharp point into.
stab a hot dog with a fork stand for (v) give your support to. I won't stand for that.

star (n) entertainment celebrity.

start out doing (v) do at the start.

stick to it (v) not stop trying. If you stick to it, you will win.

stick one's neck out (v) do something dangerous.

stitch (n) one full movement of a needle when sewing.

subject (n) what one is talking about or studying. My subject today is the price of oil.

submarine (n) (...een) boat that travels under water.

success (n) (...sess) getting or doing what one was trying to get or do.

successful (adj) being or getting a success.

such (adv) like this (Such a thing is impossible.); very. such big eyes suit See dress suit.

sum up (v) repeat what was being said or done, in a few words. sum up a talk

under the sun (adv) anywhere on earth.

sunlight (n) light from the sun.

sunset (n) time when the sun goes down at night.

sure (adv) (shoor) really (I sure am tired.); confident. I'm sure it's her. make sure (v) test. Make sure it's locked.

swallow (v; n) move the throat to make food go down through it; small bird with a long tail that divides into two points.

swear (v) (sware) use a word that people think is bad.

sweat (n; v) (swet) water that comes out through the skin when it is hot; have this water come out through your skin.

sweep (v) clean with a broom.

sweet (adj) very nice or kind. She is such a sweet girl.

take a chance (v) try something that may not work as you want it to.

tax (n; v) money a government receives from its people (a tax on alcohol); take this money from the people.

teaching (n) what you teach.

team (n) group working together, often in a sport.

tears (n) (teerz) water from the eyes when crying.

tear (v) (tair) pull apart. tear a piece of paper in two tear down (v) criticise in a negative way.

teeth See "show one's teeth".

test (v) try a thing to learn the truth about it then See "now and then".

thirty pieces of silver (n) money Judas received for helping people to kill Jesus.

though (conj; adv) without this truth changing it. I was first, though you came close.

thread (n) (thred) thin string, often used for sewing.

through hell (adv) through a very difficult time.

throw away (v) put with things to be destroyed. throw away old clothes thumb (n) short, thick finger that is separate from the others.

ticket (n) piece of paper saying that you have paid for, and can see a show, can travel, or can do some other thing.

time See "company time", "hard times", and "kill time".

tire (v) make one feel tired.

tomorrow (n; adv) (too-more-oh) day after today; the future; in the future.

tongue See "sharp tongue".

on top of (adv) in control of. on top of the wedding plans torture (v) (...cher) force a person to feel very strong pain.

in touch with (adv) meeting with or talking to. I'll get in touch with you next week.

travel light (v) not take or carry many things with you.

treason (n) action against your friend, country, or group.

truly (adv) really. I am truly sorry for what I did.

trust (v) have faith in. In God we trust.

T-shirt (n) shirt you can wear under other shirts.

turn to good account (v) make good come from.

turn away (v) stop from coming. turn away a crowd

twice (adv) (twise) two times.

two-faced (adj) saying opposite things to different people.

unknown (adj) not known.

upset (adj) angry or worried.

used up (adj) with nothing left. We used up all the oil.

vinegar (n) (...ger) sour liquid made from wine.

vineyard (n) (vin...) place for growing grapes.

virus (n) (vir...) very small germ, that can make you sick.

vision (n) (...zhun) big plan for something important.

vomit (v; n) force food from the stomach; food that is forced from the stomach. She had vomit all over her.

vote (v; n) choose, often for leaders of a country; choosing.

waste See "lay waste".

watchman (wahch...) guard.

on one's way (adv) traveling toward where one wants to go.

weakness (n) bad quality.

wealthy (adj) (well-thee) rich.

wear out (v) become broken from doing too much work.

wedding (n) special meeting when people get married.

weigh something up (v) think about how much truth is in what was said.

welcome (v; adj) receive gladly (We welcome you to our town.); received gladly. a welcome break in the meeting whether (conj) if.

whisper (v) speak very quietly. Whisper in my ear.

whistle (n; v) (wis-ul) musical sound made by blowing through your lips; make this sound. whistle for a dog white lies (n) lies that do not hurt anyone.

will (n) wanting to do a thing. He doesn't have the will to live.

willing (adj) not against doing. I'm willing to go if needed.

wind See "east wind".

wineskin (n) container for wine made from animal skin.

wisdom (n) (wiz-dum) the ability to make the best choices.

witness (v) see. Did you witness him kicking the dog?

wonderful (adj) very good. That was a wonderful meal.

wool (n) hair from a sheep.

wools (n) warm winter clothes, made from wool.

a word (n) a short talk from one person. Can I have a word with you?

the world (n) all other people. the ways of the world today world above (n) heaven.

world below (n) hell.

worth (v; n) (werth) equal in measure to (worth $100); measure (the worth of a man); being very good. a book of worth.

would (v) want. If you would, you can have some of this.

wrong (v) act badly toward someone. wrong a friend

yard (n) piece of ground with a fence around it. a cow yard

yet (adv) up to that or this time (He's not here yet.); but. I tried, yet I missed it again.

yoke (n) job; piece for joining together two working cows.

carry the yoke (v) work hard in a job.

youth (n) (yooth) time when a person is young. She wasted much of her youth.